FAIR WARNING

MR. TAFT SEES IMPROVEMENT IN CONDITION OF PHILIPPINES

The Secretary of War and Party Arrive at San Francisco.

DETAILS OF TRIP

American Interests in the Orient Are in a Very Satisfactory State.

JAPAN'S FRIENDSHIP ASSURED

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 27.—In an interview Secretary Taft, who arrived today on the Korea from the Philippines, said:

"Reports coming from the Philippine islands seemed to indicate that it would be wise for the head of the war department to make a visit of inspection to the islands during the past summer, and his going with a sufficient staff was thought to present a good opportunity to form a party of congressmen, senators and representatives, to visit the islands as guests of the Philippine government. The Philippine government was poor and was unable to do more than arrange for the passage money of the congressmen who would form part of the party. This did not include the sleeping car accommodations or the meals along the way, and, indeed, left congressmen to defray from their own pockets by far the larger part of the actual traveling expenses.

"The party as organized consisted of 23 representatives and seven senators. Of these 13 were accompanied by their wives. In addition Miss Alice Roosevelt and her friends, Miss Boardman and Miss McMillan, were of the party, and then a number of other persons, pleasant associates, joined the party, numbering about 50 people, and the unofficial party, about eighty more.

Hospitality Is Unbounded.

"We spent four or five days of very hot weather in San Francisco, enjoying the boundless hospitality of the people, and set sail on the 8th day of July on the Pacific Mail steamer Manchuria. The stop at Honolulu was one of pleasure, as it always is. I have been there three times, and my own idea of the scenes of Hawaii is that of a committeeman appointed to see that the stranger within Diamond Head shall have the opportunity of getting the best in the islands.

"We arrived at Yokohama on the 24th and were greatly surprised by the elaborate reception which had been prepared for us by the emperor, his cabinet ministers, the governor of the provinces, the mayors of the towns and the Japanese people. For five days we were the guests of the government, and nothing could hav exceeded the kindness and enthusiastic manifestations of the people which were shown to us. It was chiefly due to the presence of the daughter of the president, to whom the people wished to show their gratitude for his efforts for peace. We were housed in Tokyo, and the whole of the official party, 53 in number, lunched with the emperor and empress after each member had had a personal audience with them.

Saw Japanese Wrestling.

"The premier, Count Katsura, gave the whole party a banquet at the Hotel Imperial, and the minister of war gave a garden party at the arsenal grounds, which added much variety of interest. After the beautiful luncheon and speeches which we made we were given an exhibition of famous wrestling by the professional wrestlers of Japan. We saw the champion wrestler, who was said to weigh somewhat more than 400 pounds.

"In leaving Tokyo we were given a popular farewell such as had never been seen in Tokyo before. The whole immense square in front of the railroad station was crowded with people shouting 'Banzai!' and extending to us every evidence of good will and friendship, and so

GOULD ALLIANCES WORK AN INJURY TO WABASH

Ramsey Points Out That 40,000 Miles of Western Roads Are Withholding Traffic.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—In reply to the statement that, if the Goulds lost control, the Wabash would lose a big southwestern traffic, Joseph Ramsey, Jr., points out that with its present Gould alliances the Wabash is precluded from the possibility of receiving traffic from 40,000 miles of western roads which are naturally more or less tributary to it. To offset this under Gould control, he says, the Wabash receives only part of the traffic of Missouri Pacific and the Iron Mountain railroads because these latter work quite closely with other eastern lines, as for instance the Big Four, Vandalia and Baltimore & Ohio.

Besides, Mr. Ramsey says, the Missouri Pacific-Wabash traffic was not in many cases as profitable to the Wabash as its own local traffic, and the interests of Wabash were sacrificed in this way for the benefit of the Gould lines in general.

The placing of the traffic of the Gould lines, Mr. Ramsey contends, resulted in a great loss to the Wabash from other sources, and it would have been greater had he not prevented the entire control of traffic from passing from his hands. This move was really the cause of the first difficulty between Mr. Gould and himself.

Mr. Ramsey says Mr. Gould admitted the correctness of his view, and the traffic department of the Wabash has practically been divorced from the other Gould lines by Mr. Gould's own action in the last three months.

PLATT SAYS HE WILL NOT DIE TILL AFTER NEXT YEAR

Senator Declares He Will Retain His Health and Interest in Politics for Another Campaign.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27.—Senator Thomas C. Platt of New York, who returned to Washington from his transcontinental trip yesterday, received your correspondent at his apartments in the New Willard hotel this evening.

"Have you really contemplated retiring from the senate and from politics?" Senator Platt was asked.

"I have not contemplated either. I expect to keep my health, my position and my interest in politics until after next year. It would be worth the while of any New Yorker to live until next year. That will be a campaign for you, and I expect to take a hand. So I am not going to die till after next year."

The senator is strongly inclined to favor Oscar J. Ricketts for public printer, and this place will be settled soon after Mr. Platt sees President Roosevelt.

Abandon All Hope for Capt. Dravo.

BEAVER, PA., Sept. 27.—(Special.)—Capt. John F. Dravo, who has been for days lingering between life and death at his home here, experienced a sinking spell at 7 o'clock this evening, from which he has not recovered. His condition became rapidly worse and at 10 o'clock all the members of his family were summoned to his bedside. At 11:45 o'clock his heart action had become so weak that all hope was abandoned.

PITTSBURGHERS NOT HARD HIT BY TYPHOON

Manilla Storm Does Small Damage to Property in Which Local Capital Is Interested.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—Private cable advices were received here today from Manila, stating that the damage done by the typhoon to the electric lighting and traction systems, in which Pittsburghers are primarily interested, in the Philippine capital was only nominal.

The electrical engineering and contracting firm of J. G. White & Co., which concern recently completed the construction and equipment of the systems with Pittsburgh material and machinery, received the message, stating the loss to both properties aggregated less than $5,000, and that the greater portion of that sum applies to loss of earnings through the temporary tying up of the systems, which, however, are running again almost at full capacity.

No damage has been done the power house, which is equipped with Westinghouse turbines, the first to be used in the Philippine islands. The huge steel stack, 175 feet high, built by the Riter-Conley Manufacturing Company of Pittsburgh, withstood the hurricane.

The Manila Electric Railway and Lighting Corporation owns both properties, which already show phenomenal earnings, though being in full working operation for only a few months. The existing street railway is about 45 miles long. It will be extended soon in view of the initial lines being such a financial success.

The Westinghouse interests are largely represented in the directorate of the Manila corporation. George C. Smith, vice president of the Security Investment Company of Pittsburgh, the financial end of the Pittsburgh Westinghouse Companies, is on the board, and H. J. Conant of Westinghouse, Church, Kerr & Co. of New York, the engineering branch of the Westinghouse Electric and Machine Companies, is also a director.

Canal Commissioner Injured.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27.—Gen. Peter C. Hains, one of the members of the Panama canal commission, will not be able to accompany the board to Panama by reason of injuries received from a fall in the bath tub at his apartments today. His head was injured seriously.

F. X. BARR TURNS DOWN BERRY WHEN BOSS SAYS SO

In Return He Thinks He Has a Chance to Keep a $6,000 Job.

GUFFEY GOES WITH MR. BIGELOW

His Friends Say He Was Forced to Do This or Lose Support of Democratic Organ.

DEFEAT FOR JAMES A. CLARK

Plan of the Citizens Is to Make Alexander Dempster the Minority Commissioner—Failure of Guffey to Assist Party Nominee at Home Will Hurt.

Director E. M. Bigelow has taken over the local Democratic organization. He was assisted by F. X. Barr of the Post, who wants a re-election as clerk of courts. In the hope of again breaking into this $6,000-a-year job he eagerly agreed to sacrifice the Democratic state ticket in the county and humiliate Col. J. M. Guffey, Democratic national committeeman for Pennsylvania. Mr. Barr and the Post are still for Berry anywhere outside of Allegheny county.

Guffey put up a fight for several days in the interest of Berry. Yesterday, when the final show of hands came, Bigelow was in control. He said the Citizens would carry J. Lee Plummer, the Republican candidate for treasurer, Guffey and the other four Democratic conferees bowed to his will. Then Bigelow told them to ratify the whole fusion county ticket. Again was he obeyed. Having finished his work, he hurried from the throne room in Citizens headquarters. In Third avenue he was asked what had been done. With a smile and a wave of his hand toward the building where his serviters worked, he said:

Guffey "Goes Along."

"Plummer will go on the ticket and all of the fusion candidates have been indorsed. Yes, it was perfectly harmonious."

"Are you the boss of the Democratic party?" was a question asked the director.

"Everything is all right, Guffey is going along," was the reply.

"Are you the director of the Post?"

"It's for me," was the answer.

While Guffey has nothing to say, his friends claim he was forced into going along with Bigelow. It is held that when the Democratic organ deserted Berry in return for a chance to get an office for F. X. Barr, Guffey would have been bereft of newspaper support had he attempted to run a straight Democratic county ticket with Berry at its head. He was also deserted by Controller John B. Larkin, who took his orders from Bigelow.

Barr Did Not Resign.

While Barr cannot stand for Berry in Allegheny county, where his advocacy of the state candidate is not considered politic by the boss of the fusionists, he is allowed to have the Post continue to support the Prohibition-Democratic nominee outside of the county. Now that the deal is made and the goods delivered, Barr will continue to "fearlessly and zealously" advocate the election of Berry and denounce bossism and machines.

According to a well-authenticated report, this same Barr, a short time ago, before he had gotten his orders from Boss Bigelow, said he would withdraw from the ticket if the Citizens nominated Plummer. When the test came the slight possibility of a $6,000 job and a chance to "scoop" the county on the liquor license list looked too juicy for Mr. Barr. His Democracy withered. He joined hands

ZAYLOOK GETS HIS LIBERTY AND AN EFFUSIVE GREETING

Staid Handshakes from the Women, but Delirious Hugs and Kisses from the Men on His Release from Prison.

When John Zaylook was released from the Allegheny county jail yesterday afternoon he was greeted so effusively that even the deputy wardens of the jail were attracted by the demonstration. Waiting in Ross street, on the court house side of the street, were about a dozen men and women, and the crowd, composed entirely of Syrians, danced for very joy at Zaylook's return to the freedom of the city.

Zaylook had been in jail for about four days and had so many callers that he was picked as a most popular prisoner by the men connected with the jail. Just why he is so popular no one about the jail was able to learn, but every one was sure they had made no mistake over his popularity when they witnessed the demonstration when he was released. Others who happened to be in Ross street also stopped to look, for Zaylook received more kisses than a bride starting on her honeymoon.

Zaylook was convicted in court some days ago on a charge of conspiracy, and was sentenced to pay $100 and costs, amounting to about $140, or spend three months in the workhouse. He was recommitted and in the meantime his attorney took an appeal to the superior court and Zaylook furnished $1,000 bail for a hearing before the latter court. During the afternoon his bond had been fixed up and a man appeared with the papers necessary for his release. That he would be released quickly spread through the Syrian district and a crowd of men and women went to the jail to greet the prisoner when he came out.

The distribution of kisses went on at a lively rate until it came the women's turn. Then the spectators stood with wondering eyes and mouths agape. Zaylook had been repeatedly kissed and hugged by the men in the crowd, but the women, dressed in their picturesque costumes, only shook his hand. Some of the spectators climbed up on the iron railing surrounding the court house to be ready for the next act in the serio-comic play.

Zaylook was well dressed and receiving such an affectionate demonstration pleased him. His countenance beamed as he looked upon his friends and then put out his lips, just like a pretty girl. The deputies behind the bars were constrained to remark: "Gee, he's it, all right."

OFFICERS AFTER FRANKLIN MAN FOR FORGERY

Former Pittsburgher Alleged to Have Raised Notes Given for Insurance Premiums.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

FRANKLIN, Sept. 27.—H. O. Carleton, a resident of this city since last fall, has been missing for six weeks, and an Indianapolis insurance company and two local banks have joined in an effort to apprehend him, alleging embezzlement and forgery. His alleged crooked operations were carried on in Pullion, Enderton and Clintonville.

Carleton offered several wealthy oil producers a paid-up policy for eight years, it is said, if they would pay the first year's premium in cash. It later developed he had written in the policy a clause providing the amount of the other seven years' premiums was to be considered as a loan to the holder, payable at the end of eight years with interest.

In most cases the first year's premiums were paid by check, and the signatures to these checks Carleton is alleged to have forged to notes for $100 and upward each. The name of M. E. Eakin of Pullion was forged to one for that amount and the note discounted by a Franklin bank. George Eakin, R. W. Buchanan and H. S. Foster were others whose names were forged to notes. Some of these notes are said to have been discounted by an individual in Pittsburgh and turned by him into a Pittsburgh bank.

Carleton is thought to have gone to South Africa. When he left he ordered that receipts for certain registered packages be sent to him there. He is an Englishman and is said to have been a deserter from the British navy. He came here from Pittsburgh, bringing with him several recommendations. While in Pittsburgh he met a young woman in a Sunday school and married her. She and her young child Carleton deserted, and she has taken up manicuring.

An effort was made last night to find Mrs. Carleton, but no one by that name is known at the various manicuring parlors in this city.

JEALOUSY OF M. WITTE MANIFESTED IN RUSSIA

His Enemies Characterize Him as a Self-Advertiser Because He Visits the Kaiser.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 27.—M. Witte is expected to arrive here tomorrow. His progress through France and Germany has been watched from here with interest, but none the less it has added to the jealousy toward him in certain quarters, which was more or less freely manifested after his success at Portsmouth. The fact that he went to see Emperor William yesterday enabled his enemies to seize the opportunity to characterize him as a self-advertiser.

Emperor William's gift to M. Witte of the Order of the Black Eagle has had a gratifying effect here, much more so than when his majesty conferred the order on Gen. Stoessel.

M. Witte's visit to the German emperor has given rise to considerable political speculation, but no especial political significance should be attached to it. It was simply an evidence of the satisfactory relations existing between the two empires which had grown even closer during the war.

CHILD'S TRAGIC DEATH CAUSES A MAN'S DEMISE

NEW CASTLE, PA., Sept. 27.—(Special.)—His nervous system shattered by seeing a baby wrecked under a street car two weeks ago, John S. Morgan, a tinworker, died at his home here today. He is survived by six children.

SMITH HONOR GUEST

The power of the press and the industrial magnitude of Pittsburgh and the hospitality of its people were the principal theme of the speeches which made the banquet of the Pennsylvania State Editorial association at the Hotel Schenley a memorable occasion in the history of the organization. The seats were filled and the capacity responded. Enthusiasm was not curbed, and the newspaper men and their wives, after two strenuous days of sightseeing, joined with zest in the feast and were entertained by the oratory.

Charles Emory Smith, one of the best among Pennsylvania newspaper men and a man who has frequently been honored in politics, was the guest of honor and the principal speaker of the evening. Congressman John Dalzell talked of modern editors and their work and of Pittsburgh's greatness.

Lauded Old King Coal.

John H. Jones lauded "Old King Coal." Arthur G. Burgoyne gave some sentiments direct from the editorial sanctum, and Secretary James W. Wardrop of the Merchants' and Manufacturers' association made an entertaining address, in which he bound together in an eloquent symposium the thoughts of the other orators. Congressman James Francis Burke was toastmaster.

Mr. Smith's address abounded in good humor. It was long after midnight when he rose to respond to the toast, "Our State Editors," yet every person in that audience of 500 people to the banquet hall remained until the close.

"The press of Pennsylvania," said Mr. Smith, "yields to none in its influence, its integrity and its character for good. There is still a greater era ahead, and the journals of the Keystone state and its journalists will challenge any in the land.

Invitation to Philadelphia.

"Coming from Philadelphia, the home of Ben Franklin, who was the founder of our profession, and proud as I am of my native city, I am, nevertheless, impressed by this magnificent Pittsburgh reception. I want you to come to Philadelphia some time. I want you to stay a week with us, because it will take just about that long for us to show you the contrast between the simple life of the Quaker City and the strenuous life of Pittsburgh."

Mr. Smith paid a pretty compliment to the ladies, and spoke of the tribute which M. Witte paid the press of America when his memorable message was sent to the czar, recalling the old proverb that "the pen is mightier than the sword."

The orchestra played an Indian tune when Mr. Burgoyne rose to speak. He was given an enthusiastic reception, and his remarks about the Press club evoked much applause. Incidentally he recited a little poem dedicated to the occasion, and it made a pronounced hit.

Like a Family Gathering.

After a day spent on a steamboat excursion, it was long after the hour set for the opening of the dining-room when the editors and their friends got into their dinner clothes and were ready for the banquet. It was like a great family gathering, and the number of ladies at the tables made the gathering noteworthy.

When Congressman Burke rose to speak he was applauded as the "trade envoy." He said:

> As I glance down the line of distinguished speakers whom I shall have the pleasure of presenting to you tonight I feel in the anticipation of hearing gems of thought falling from silver tongues as do fine cut to a golden age—a treat strongly reminded for you, when memory it is to carry me of the rough-hewn backwoods of one of those the distant fields of that golden empire in which the world is governed from day to day.

Tell Even Half the Story.

And now, when your happy hours expire, when the curtain has fallen upon these scenes which you have come to leave behind, and you return to where you were, I suppose that marvelous power of pride, we ask only that you picture to the world but half the marvels that you have seen in our city. Just suggest the small story and when you have told the world will little wonder why we have pictured in our mind's eye the early dawn of that day when our products will exceed all other communities in the markets of the western world, and also in those distant ports and provinces in which our colors will soon proclaim the glories of our commercial conquests in the golden light of the orient, under which an awakened people are at last responding to the magic touch and leadership of our American civilization.

Congressman Dalzell spoke mostly of Pittsburgh's progress and of the still greater wonders which are to be expected in the local commercial world when the Ohio River and Lake Erie Ship canal is built. Of the newspaper man he said:

Science Has Abolished Space.

The newspaper editor stands to me for the most omniscient of men. Compelled by his profession continually to keep abreast of the times, he must necessarily be possessed of wide and varied information. Many causes have combined to constitute the newspaper one of the most potent influences in our modern complex civilization. All things now-a-days are done in the open. Events both great and small, whether relating to states or to individuals, wherever transpiring, seem to be for the information of all. Whether it be a battle involving the fate of a nation or a baseball game involving the reputation of a pitcher, the interested citizen may follow it in the columns of his daily paper.

So completely has science abolished space that the world's news are as local news. And with the passage of time the circle of readers widens. I recall my experience as a boy summering on a farm. Once a week a neighboring town was visited to get the mail which included a weekly newspaper. Now a mailbox at the gateway by the roadside of that same farm receives each morning a daily paper, and on the table in the living room are magazines that in my boyhood day were unthought of.

Tribute to Editor Smith.

The governmental system of rural free delivery, which owes no little to the wise administration as postmaster general of one of the most distinguished of your number, during the year ending June 30, 1904, distributed 906,424,123 pieces of mail and collected 182,963,351. With the facility for the distribution there has come also a reduction in the price of the newspaper, and thus also has the circle of readers been enlarged as well as the influence of the paper. No home so humble now-a-days that it is not reached by a daily journal.

The character of the press itself has radically changed. Time was when the newspaper contained nothing but news of local happenings and advertisements. Discussion of public affairs, of questions of moment of whatever it depended upon the orator on the platform or stump, or upon the pamphleteers. The modern newspaper has taken the place of the lecturer and the pamphlet and the modern editor has taken the place of the pamphleteer. Since the advent of the Sunday edition the newspaper has taken also, for many, the place of the magazine. The press has become indeed the third estate.

Newspapers as Educators.

It is pre-eminently an educator. I can conceive of no place of much greater power than that of the editor of a great modern newspaper. From the quiet of his sanctum he molds, directs and controls public opinion. His influence is felt in the halls of legislation, in the executive chamber and even within the confines of the courts of law. He sits by every fireside and preaches in every home. The editor is a man who leads. He is a man of convictions, of courage, wise, tactful, insistent, persuasive, convincing. Than a good, clean, virile, intellectual newspaper there is nothing better. Than a demagogic, sensational, yellow journal, pandering to the multitude, revelling in the assassination of private character, and arraying the masses against the classes, in all the vile catalogue of Satan there is nothing worse.

It is one of the glories of the press that it is not only an educator, but that it is also the consistent guardian of liberty in the assertion and practice of the freedom of written speech. Laws seeking to limit that freedom are as blanks on the statute book, or wishes in the hands of Samson. When I speak thus of the character and power of the press and of those who control it, I am simply uttering a truism when I add that the responsibility corresponds to the power.

It is said that there is crying need of able and clean men in public life. No less do we need able and clean men to hold the editorial pen. I am proud to believe that the press of Pennsylvania abounds in such men.

Jones and "Old King Coal."

John H. Jones, president of the Buffalo and Pittsburgh Company, talked of coal and its relationship to the editorial "we." The guests soon discovered that the speaker had a knowledge of some of the ethics of journalism and his praises of the reliability of a newspaper man's confidence won much applause. Mr. Jones said in part:

My first impression of a newspaper man was that he was one of those shrewd fellows, endowed with Sherlock Holmes abilities, who would fly through space, enter second-story windows or in some mysterious manner gain an entrance to the individual or meeting, secrete himself in the rafters of the auditorium or niche of the sacred halls, and in this way learn our every secret and send them broadcast into the world. I thought the more cunning the reporter or news gatherer the greater his remuneration. But on becoming better acquainted with this mysterious individual I found him to be somewhat on the mortal order, like the rest of us; a person in whom you could place the most implicit confidence and not fear a betrayal; a man whose business and moral standard was such that when he came into your office and asked you about any projected business proposition in which the public had an interest, or which was of a semi-public nature, and about your connection therewith, that you could freely discuss the subject with him and depend upon it that nothing but what you wished made public proposition would appear on the front page of the next issue of his paper in bold, artistic type.

The press is a great power, especially in this country. It is due to the excellent organization, the splendid judgment and the great tact displayed on the part of editors and their staffs, combined with good management, that our press is today of such a high standard. I do not hesitate to say to you that many of my good friends are newspaper men, and I am glad of this opportunity to increase the number and to extend to you a warm and hearty welcome to the greatest manufacturing city of the world—a kingdom governed by old King Coal and his consort, Queen Iron Ore.

Prior to 1885 many coal mines were worked in a very crude manner. Mine foremen were not then as well educated as they are today, nor as well posted in the management of coal properties. Mines that produced 200 tons a day were the exception and not the rule. But wonderful progress has been made during the past few years. Our largest local independent manufacturing company has expended more than $1,000,000 in the equipment of a single mine, which has recently produced in excess of 7,000 tons of coal in one day of eight hours, for their own exclusive use, and the maximum has not yet been reached, their business having increased more than five times within the last 15 years.

Owing to the installation of modern machinery, such as electric and pneumatic mining machines and locomotives, requiring great skill and care for their operation and maintenance, mine managers and foremen must have a technical and mechanical education as well as long practical experience in mining. Most of our mine foremen are being educated along these lines.

When we take into consideration the fact that 25 years ago from $5,000 to $20,000 was the prevailing amount expended in the development of a coal mine with a capacity of 15,000 to 20,000 tons per annum, and that today it costs from $250,000 to $1,000,000 to equip one of our modern mines, and that they are now capable of producing from 600,000 to 1,500,000 tons of coal per annum, you can readily see why it is necessary for mine foremen of to-day to take advantage of every opportunity to improve their education so they may be enabled to equip and operate such large enterprises to the best advantage. With the opportunity of attending our excellent night schools, as well as the advantages to be derived from a technical course in a school of correspondence, it is possible for a miner, whatever his early education may have been, who has executive ability and untiring application, to fit himself, within a comparatively short time, to hold a position which will pay him from $2,000 to $10,000 a year, or even more, and this without interfering with his occupation as a miner or employe in and around a coal mine. It is within the power of you newspaper men to encourage these men to improve their condition and I know you will do it.

Editorial Association Growing.

A short business session was held yesterday morning at the Schenley. The report of Secretary Habgood showed the attendance was 338, and 16 new members were received since the opening of the session. John R. Farr of the Scranton Truth, delivered an address in which he recounted the history of the association and pointed out how it had worked for the best interests of journalism in this state. The resolution committee reported resolutions thanking the Merchants and Manufacturers' association, the Pittsburgh Press club and the publishing houses and industrial firms which had contributed to the success of the convention. During the morning the ladies in the party were guests of the Press in an automobile ride around the city. In the afternoon the Island Queen took the visitors on a voyage up the Monongahela. The Western Union and the Postal telegraph companies and the Bell telephone lines have extended the editors the franking privileges for social messages over their wires, and the visitors can talk to their families at home during any hour of the day or night.

Tonight the convention festivities will close with a reception in the new Dispatch building, and "after 20" the Pittsburgh Press club will keep open house with a "Night in Bohemia." This will be a characteristic climax for a busy session for the editors and will give the country journalists some idea of the pastimes of the men who make the big city dailies—men who tell while the world sleeps and who keep in touch with the news of the globe every hour in the 24. This morning a special train on the Pennsylvania railroad will take the guests on a trip of Pittsburgh traffic terminals and a luncheon will be served at the Westinghouse plant at East Pittsburgh.

BARR TURNS DOWN BERRY

with Controller Larkin and together they plotted to spike the guns of Guffey and deliver the goods to Bigelow. In return the boss grins and calls them easy.

Guffey's Lost Opportunity.

Guffey had a chance and he did not take it. Many Democrats urged him to repudiate Bigelow, Larkin and Barr and put up a straight Democratic ticket, with Berry at the head. Had this been done his candidate for state treasurer would have received more votes than could have been delivered had he been given a Citizens nomination. Guffey would have kept himself straight with the Democracy of the state and his friend, James A. Clark, would have been assured a re-election as the minority member of the board of county commissioners. A part of Boss Bigelow's scheme is to defeat Clark. He plans to make Alexander Dempster the minority commissioner.

Just why Clark did not stand out for a straight ticket is a trifle hard to understand. One of his closest friends is authority for the statement that the Citizens offered Squire E. L. Braun of Allegheny the nomination for commissioner with the understanding that he was to work to have himself made the minority commissioner.

Smiled When He Said It.

Squire Braun was found in Fifth avenue yesterday afternoon. He was on his way to the Frick building. Just outside this structure he was asked concerning the offer of the commissionership.

"You know," said he, "I hurt my knee cap and am not physically able to make a fight. Then there is a great lack of harmony in the Citizens party and there is doubt about its success."

As the Allegheneian was apparently shifting from a direct answer of the question he was told to think hard and then make a reply about the offer of the Citizens. He studied the architecture of the Frick building for a few moments and smiled broadly. Then he said:

"I will really have to deny that story today, but will have something interesting for you in a few days."

Mr. Dempster is the personal candidate of Boss Bigelow. The Citizens ticket cannot possibly win this fall. In the closing days of the campaign, when Clark is struggling for the votes to win him the minority commissionership, the orders will go out from Bigelow to save Dempster. The pay roll will be told to plump.

Helps Gordon's Game.

Guffey is the head of the Democratic organization in the state. He named Berry as the candidate for treasurer. As the boss of the party it is up to him to make the best possible showing for his nominee. There are fusion tickets in Philadelphia and Allegheny county. In the Quaker City Guffey's political foe, former Judge James Gay Gordon, is the power that pulls the strings on the City party. So far he has not nominated Berry, neither has he given the nomination to another. In this he has the advantage over Guffey.

Next year Gordon and the crowd with him will try to get control of the Democratic organization. They will have the advantage of calling attention of Guffey's failure in Allegheny county. This fall Guffey is not in a position to urge his organization throughout the state to run their counties in for Berry. They can point to his lack of achievement in Allegheny county.

There never was any question about Plummer carrying Allegheny county. The Citizens indorsement simply means that much more majority.

HOMESTEAD REPUBLICANS.

There Will Be a Mass Meeting There Tonight.

The Republican campaign will be opened in Homestead this evening with a big meeting to be held in McClure's hall. Invitations were issued yesterday to the Republicans of Mifflin township, Whittaker, Hays, West Homestead, Munhall and Homestead boroughs to attend.

The speakers will be George Z. Hosack, candidate for treasurer; William Dodds, for clerk of courts; William B. Kirker, for prothonotary; F. P. Booth, for controller; I. K. Campbell and C. P. Price, for commissioners.

WINDOW GLASS FACTORIES HAVE DECLARED OPEN WAR

Following a Disagreement on Wage Scale at Cleveland President Faulkner Makes Emphatic Statement.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CLEVELAND, Sept. 27.—War to the end was the decision reached tonight by the representatives of the Amalgamated Association of Window Glass Workers of America in the proposed effort to man the independent window glass factories of the country with snappers and apprentices, by Simon Burns of Pittsburgh, president of L. A. 300, Knights of Labor.

Following an unsuccessful attempt here today between the National Association of Window Glass Manufacturers and the Amalgamated Association of Window Glass Workers of America to agree upon a wage scale, President Faulkner of the latter organization said tonight he had sent telegrams to the unions affiliated with his organization throughout the country to stand firm:

"We will picket every window glass plant where any attempt is made to employ snappers and apprentices," said President Faulkner. "We will not permit our men to work with the members of the Burns organization and it will be a fight to the finish."

Before they adjourned the independent manufacturers adopted a scale to be known as the Cleveland wage scale, which is identical with the Burns scale as to wages.

MR. TAFT SEES AN IMPROVEMENT IN THE PHILIPPINES

"As we went from Yokohama and the various towns on our way to Kyoto we were greeted by the governors of the various provinces, by the mayors of the various cities, and by the councils, until we reached Kyoto, where we spent more than 24 hours as guests of the city, and were given an opportunity to see the marvelous manufactures and interesting places of the Japanese capital.

No Suitable Hotels at Manila.

"We landed in Manila on Saturday, the 5th of August. The whole party was taken care of by private houses, as there were no hotels suitable. This is one trouble in Manila, but the commission, through the municipal council, is taking steps to secure the necessary capital for the erection of a great hotel on the Luneta, looking out to the sea and occupying the most favorable position in the city for comfort, beauty and prominence.

Most elaborate preparations had been made for our reception in Manila, but we arrived one day ahead of time, accordingly all of the reception except the flotilla of boats, which met us in the harbor, was postponed until Monday morning, when we were given an opportunity to see in the procession the progress which has been made in civic government and in the business of the islands. The procession was certainly most instructive and worthy the character of the municipal organization of Manila. The choice of the school organization and the fire department of Manila showed that their city was now, under American management, an excellent, up-to-date city.

Plans for Water Supply.

It is still lacking an adequate water supply and in the proper hygienic sewer system, but authority has been given by congress to construct both. Plans have been made and approved under the direction of Desmond Fitzgerald, the famous municipal engineer of Boston, for adding to the water supply from a very pure source in the mountains, and for constructing a sewer which will carry off the sewage from Manila in a way to avoid injury to the health of the inhabitants. Manila is so low, being only about seven or nine feet above the sea level at any point, that it is necessary to run the sewage into reservoirs and pump it out to sea.

It was very gratifying on landing to find that the harbor works, which will probably make Manila harbor as convenient as any in the orient, in the main were completed so that the largest vessels were able to land and unload in stormy weather during the southwest monsoons, behind the breakwater, something which was unheard of two years ago. The whole appearance of the city of Manila to one who knew it four or five years ago is changed.

The secretary here referred in detail to some of the recent improvements. He continued:

Political Conditions Disturbed.

The political situation in some respects was not as good as it ought to be. A wave of Ladronism has swept over the province of Cavite, and it has been found necessary to suspend the writ of habeas corpus in the province of Cavite and Batangas, the neighboring province. The same was true of Samar, and the use of troops on Samar and the use of the scouts and constabulary in Cavite has put an end to this business. However, there were two or three men responsible for the keeping up of the Ladronism who had not been captured. Complaints were made against the constabulary, and while many of them were unfounded, it was probably true that a change in the constabulary should be effected, and it is now under consideration by the government.

The distressing agricultural depression, due to the loss of 75 per cent of the agricultural cattle, drought, locusts and the cholera as well as other causes, will not cease to be for several years. This naturally subjects the government to criticism because this alien government is much more likely to be criticised for existing conditions however free from blame in respect to them than a native government.

Some of the younger men of education have been advocating immediate independence. It therefore becomes necessary to state with considerable emphasis the policy of the administration on this subject, to say that in the opinion of the administration there was no possible hope for independence short of a generation, because the people could not be fitted for self-government in that time, indeed, it will probably take a much longer period.

Expected Political Combat.

The party consisted, as is known, of Democratic as well as Republican senators and congressmen, and their views represent all sides of the Philippine question, but with a self-restraint and moderation which cannot be too highly commended it was tacitly agreed between the members of the congressional party on both sides that it would be most unwise for them to discuss before the Filipinos their differences of opinion.

Hence the sight which some of the irreconcilable Filipinos had hoped for, to-wit: A constant combat between Republican and Democratic members, with the Filipino people as an audience, was not presented, and I cannot express too emphatically my appreciation of the patriotic stand which our Democratic brethren took in this matter in removing a diffusion of differences of opinion to the proper representatives in congress.

All the days in Manila were spent by the congressmen in investigating agricultural conditions, with the view to the possible effect of a possible change in tariff on the Philippine production of tobacco and sugar. An opportunity was also given to those Filipinos strongly in favor of immediate independence to present their views. All this was reported and will be circulated doubtless in a congressional document.

After a week's festivities in Manila the party proceeded on the transport Logan on a tour among the islands. In Manila, Iloilo and Cebu we heard complaints of the failure of the crops and of the stringency of the times. At Tacloban, on Leyte, one of the hemp provinces, and again at Legaspi, the chief city of Albay, the greatest of the hemp provinces, we found the people very happy and a condition of prosperity prevailing, due to the profitable production of hemp.

Guarded Against Chinese Insult.

Returning to Manila, the delegation resumed its investigations, while it was occupied with conferences with Gov.-Gen. Wright, the various members of the commission, prominent Filipinos and others upon questions of governmental practice and policy. From Manila we went to Hongkong in the transport Logan. There I received a telegram from the president requesting that I visit Canton and that I confer with the viceroy on the subject of the boycott then supposed to be in force. The viceroy was seriously ill in bed, but he sent through the American consul an invitation to the entire party to a luncheon with the provincial treasurer, who represented the viceroy in the absence of the latter, this function being held at the Manchu club in Canton.

The whole of the party went to Canton, but it was not thought wise to enter the old city lest the members of the party be insulted. The viceroy had issued a proclamation commanding peace and directing that no indignity be offered to any American, and it is true that a number of venturesome members of the party went into Canton and were not molested in any way. Still, the great body of them were entertained in a different way. We went out on a railroad trip and then up the river to the Manchu club. We returned to Hongkong that night, and the next day were the recipients of a banquet given by the English governor of Hongkong colony, Sir Matthew Nathan, and of a supper given by the Hongkong club.

The next day the party divided and about 30 of them continued on board the Logan while Miss Roosevelt and her immediate party, together with a number of members of congress and others, to the number of about 30 went direct to Tuku and Pekin. About 45 of the party, those who landed today took passage on the Korea at Hongkong and went to Amoy, Shanghai, Nagasaki, Kobe and Yokohama, the regular stopping place for the Pacific Mail line.

Japanese Riots Exaggerated.

We heard much while we were at Shanghai of the riots in Japan, brought about by the popular disgust with the terms of peace with Russia, and at first we were much exercised because it seemed as if the disturbances were directed against foreigners and especially Americans. Upon going to the seat of disturbance, however, we found them to be greatly exaggerated, and that their purpose had been confined to the expression of hostility toward the ministers and those who had most unwisely interfered with some peaceful public expression of disapproval of the terms of the treaty.

Our party went ashore at Kobe and a number went there from Miko to Kioto, to Osaka and Yokahama by rail and all were treated with great politeness and no one was offered any indignity. The emperor was good enough to send his chamberlain and others to greet us at Yokohama and the governors of Yokohama and Tokyo and the mayors of the two cities came to explain the disturbances were not directed against Americans, but against the police, and such were the results of my investigation.

The trip home on the Korea was very pleasant. While the condition in the Philippines are not as favorable as we would like to have them and probably will not be favorable until the depressing conditions shall be followed by a prosperous season, still progress is being made. The government is more efficient, inefficient men are being eliminated and things are settling to business. Economy is being practiced more and more in the government. Filipinos are being introduced very rapidly in the place of Americans, and on the whole, in looking back over two years, decided steps forward have been taken.

Troublesome Question Settled.

Of the questions which were open when we started on this trip, and in the settlement of which it was hoped the trip might lead, one was the establishment of a special tribunal for the hearing of disputed questions in relation to possession of churches and rectories and cemeteries. I am glad to say that before we reached the islands a satisfactory law had been enacted, which it is hoped will rapidly dispose of these cases. The law refers the issues directly to the supreme court. There was also remaining unsettled a question about the title to one-half of the Friars islands—those owned previously by the Dominican order. After a conference with the representative of the vendors a satisfactory compromise was effected by which good title to the lands will be immediately conveyed to the government and possession given as far as that possession is in the vendors, and the difference as to price, a matter of some $200,000, will be left to adjustment by arbitration.

The question of the operation of the internal revenue law is one which is still under consideration. The principles of law taxing tobacco and alcoholic liquors of course are to be maintained, but the question whether the provisions of the law are not too inquisitorial in respect to other matters and whether the tax is not too high at present, are all questions which require some study before they can be decided.

With reference to the boycott in Canton and China, I am not sufficiently advised to speak with great authority. My impression is that it will fade out because of the necessity that the Chinese merchants are under of patronizing America to sell what will be in great demand in Manchuria. Chinese merchants themselves are losing money, and their indolence is not likely to further it.

Suggestion from Chinese.

Suggestions were made of possible amendments in the exclusion laws, which, without in any way opening the door to the coolie classes, would relieve the stigma which the present regulations, it is insisted, put on the charge entirely unjust. I have those suggestions from merchants in Hongkong and elsewhere, and shall present them to the president. The president's personal information and assurance that justice would be done the Chinese had an excellent effect.

Many of the people in Japan are disappointed at the terms of peace, but the great sober majority of that people, I am sure, is deeply grateful that peace has come and grateful to President Roosevelt for his assistance in bringing it about and conscious of the fact that Japan was under a great strain and that thorough statesmanship required that if she could make an honorable peace she should do so. The peace is honorable in that she accepted everything, and that had she continued the war for the indemnity she would simply be in the attitude of fighting for money. There is not, in my judgment, the slightest fear that the people of Japan will not continue to be as friendly to America and Americans as our reception in July showed that they were then.

Of course it is too soon to speak of probable legislation by congress upon Philippine matters, but I am sure that the trip has added greatly to the interest in Philippine questions which will be taken up by members of congress who were in the party, and that the more accurate information which they have now will lead to wise and intelligent legislation.

Members of Party Arrive.

MINISTERS WON'T VOTE DRY TICKET

Tell Synod That a Ballot Cast for Prohibition Party Means Disfranchisement.

SAY THERE ARE WORSE EVILS

A sensation was created during the afternoon session yesterday of the Pennsylvania synod of the Cumberland Presbyterian church, which is meeting in the Second church, East End, when several clergymen-delegates declared themselves as being opposed to supporting the Prohibition party by their ballots.

The matter under discussion was the report of the committee on temperance, which in part was to the effect that no minister or member of the church could afford to give countenance or encouragement to the liquor business. The Rev. H. Cochrane added that the licensed saloon makes the nation a partner in the business, and that the man who votes with the party that refuses to fight the saloon, indorses the saloon. "The liquor traffic," he said, "is the curse of our politics and county, state and national prohibition are the only ways we can be freed of the curse."

The Rev. J. E. Garvin of Waynesburg replied as follows: "I believe, in the abstract, in the principles of prohibition, but my common sense makes me a believer in our present license laws. The Prohibition party has no chance to do anything now."

Thinks There Are Other Evils.

The Rev. Dr. J. M. Howard announced himself as being opposed to supporting the Prohibition party by his ballot at this time. He said: "It is my duty to not disfranchise myself by voting the Prohibition ticket. There are other evils in the country, state and nation to be remedied beside the saloon evil. Party alone cannot save the saloon. If all the people were right the party would of necessity be right. Corrupt people make a corrupt party. For us to take up a single question like prohibition and vote for it alone all our lives, is wrong. Because a party has not declared itself for prohibition does not make it a hopeless party in my sight. There are the trusts and many other public evils that must be fought besides that of the liquor traffic. I am for righteousness and not for party."

These remarks smersed the synod in animated discussion, the ultra-prohibitionists defending their positions in long arguments and the report of the committee was finally adopted as read.

That the Cumberland Presbyterian churches of this state are prepared for union with the Presbyterian denomination which has already in great measure been arranged for, was shown during the morning session.

Presbyterians on the Board.

During the afternoon the Women's Missionary society held a session in the East End Presbyterian church while the deliberations of the synod were continued in the Second church with the Rev. R. L. Price acting as moderator in the absence of the Rev. Dr. Charles R. Harmon. The report of the committee on education disclosed a marked falling off in the number of new clergymen entering the denomination, but 20 ordinations having been performed throughout the whole denomination in 1904.

Following the discussion of the report of the temperance committee, the nominating committee made its report, which was as follows:

Education—James Hamilton, Samuel Davis, R. L. Price, R. B. Wilson.

Temperance—J. C. Francis, J. H. Norris, G. N. Hawley, G. C. Miller.

Publication—J. D. Geld, A. T. Carr, H. G. Teagarden, A. B. Elliott.

Ministerial relief—J. M. Van Horn, J. H. Miller, A. C. Biddle, L. B. Llewellyn.

Nominations—W. S. Silvens, T. M. Hurst, A. D. Cooper, W. W. Carhart.

Auditing—J. M. Howard, C. R. Zahniser, Elbert Hafner, S. D. Waldrop.

Minutes of synod and general assembly—T. M. Hartman, A. M. Riggs, G. D. Mullendore.

Christian citizenship—R. L. Irving, G. G. Kerr, J. F. Neel, J. E. Garvin.

Syllabus—Pastors in charges, synod clerk and J. R. Howard.

Synod's board of trustees—R. L. Biddle, W. S. Stanley, T. M. Hurst, J. R. Harris, J. E. Garvin.

The report was adopted and the nominees elected unanimously by acclamation.

The session closed with a report of the committee on publication and a short talk on "How Can We Derive the Greatest Benefit from Our Publication Interests?" by the Rev. J. C. Francis.

The evening session was devoted to the Women's Missionary society with Mrs. Mattie Orr of Jackson Center, presiding. Following devotional exercises and music an address was delivered by the Rev. J. H. Miller of Beaksville on "Soul Saving."

EX-CHIEF HILL WILL BE TRIED

CITY PARTY WINS VICTORY

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau,
Press Building.
PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 27.

The grand jury today returned the blanket indictment on which John W. Hill, ex-chief of the bureau of filtration, will be tried. Ex-Judge Gordon assisted the prosecuting attorney in its preparation.

The substance of the bill is "falsification of the records and concurrence in such falsification." It is the longest indictment ever returned by a Philadelphia grand jury, covering 161 pages, 30,000 words, 18 charges and 139 counts. The trial will probably begin October 9.

Judge Bregy today decided the receiver of taxes must recognize powers of attorney, partly printed and partly written, in the issuance of poll tax receipts. This was a victory for the City party. This evening the committee of Seventy sent a letter to the receiver of taxes threatening him with prosecution if he issues blank tax receipts to be filled in, charging this practice has prevailed in the past.

Over a hundred visitors were at Republican state headquarters today. They came from all parts of the state. Chairman Andrews talked with all of them. He says without exception they reported the certainty of a big Republican majority in November. One, a commercial traveler, an old acquaintance of the chairman, said he had covered every important town in the state and it was his opinion every one, nearly, was going to vote the Republican ticket this fall.

"That's the way they're all talking," said Col. Andrews. "Pennsylvania is enjoying the most prosperous times in her history. The people are satisfied. They will not vote for a change, whether it is offered in the guise of 'reform' or whether it comes in the free trade proposition annually submitted by our friends, the Democrats."

DEATH CLAIMS JAMES HAGAN

WAS AN OLD PITTSBURGHER

James Hagan, a messenger in the state insurance department at Harrisburg, died at 9 o'clock last night at St. Agnes' hospital, Philadelphia. Mr. Hagan was a Pittsburgher, but had practically been away from town since 1894, when he went to Harrisburg. Every election he would come back to Pittsburgh to vote, always stopping at the house of P. J. McNulty, who had been his friend for years. He was registered as a resident of the Twentieth ward.

Mr. Hagan came to Pittsburgh from Ireland when a boy. He boarded at the house of a Mrs. Rauch in Sarah street. He first worked at Bryce's glass house and then at the glass factory of the late Terence Campbell. In 1867 Mr. Hagan was made a doorkeeper of the house of representatives and when the session ended Gov. Pattison appointed him to a position in the insurance department. In that department he served until his death.

He had been ailing several months, and on July 12 he went to Bedford Springs, but soon his malady, an affection of the liver, grew worse, so that he had to be taken to the hospital in Philadelphia. James W. Patterson, who knew Mr. Hagan very well, visited him in Philadelphia last week. As long as he was able to see visitors prominent men from all over the state, who happened to be in Philadelphia, went to see him, for his acquaintance was wide and his popularity great. While he was at the hospital Israel W. Durham, the former state insurance commissioner, sent flowers every day, and Bishop Shanahan, the Catholic prelate of Harrisburg, visited him three times at the hospital. So far as known, he leaves no relatives but a stepmother, who lives in Canada. He was about 48 years old.

Mr. Hagan was known by every man of any prominence in state politics. He had been in Harrisburg for over 20 years. His friends were numbered by the hundreds and his enemies were few. It was through C. D. Magee that Mr. Hagan secured his appointment in the state service. Although known as the messenger in the insurance department, he was familiar with every detail of the department business. With rare consideration he generally gave confidential relations, and enjoyed the esteem prevailing with most of the public officials in Harrisburg.

He kept a voting residence in Pittsburgh, but spent all of his time in Harrisburg, where he enjoyed the respect of the best people. While he voted in Pittsburgh, he had a great deal of strength in Harrisburg and always exerted it in behalf of clean politics. This was shown in the last memorable campaign when the latter element nomed L. F. Greer on the Republican ticket. Mr. Hagan practically managed the contest and the fight was won.

Mr. Hagan was a consistent member of the Catholic church. Numbered among his close friends were the bishop of the Harrisburg diocese and the pastors of most of the Protestant churches of the city. His greatest pleasure was found in the performance of deeds and of kindness for a friend. He never married. The funeral services will be held in Harrisburg at 9 o'clock on Saturday morning.

OWENS WAIVES HEARING.

Clerk in Mayor's Office Will Answer In Court to Charges Preferred Against Him.

Howard Owens, a clerk employed in Mayor Hays' office, last night waived a hearing before Alderman Toole on a charge of keeping a gambling house and selling liquor without a license. William Hennessy and John Heaben also waived hearings and gave bail for court. The latter were arrested when county detectives raided the Knights of Fidelity club, Forbes and Marion streets, early Sunday morning.

Owens was arrested while at work in the mayor's office on Monday. The club members claimed they were chartered. The charter, however, proved to be awarded to Lodge No. 1 of the Knights of Fidelity, in 1901. This organization has since gone out of existence. The members of the former organization say their charter was stolen.

What to Eat and When to Eat

Two Important Questions That Can Be Answered Easily After Reading This.

In many products of nature are found two or three or four elements of food, but in wheat there are fifteen different food elements and every one of these fifteen different elements is necessary for the proper sustenance and upbuilding of the human body.

Every nutritive element of the best white wheat grown is found in Malta-Vita. This famous food is the whole of the wheat thoroughly cleansed and cooked in absolute purity and mixed with the finest malt extract that was ever made, thus it is the purest, richest, strongest food in the world. You understand, of course, that the cooking and steaming of the wheat gelatinizes its starch, and then the malt extract, a powerful digestive agent, quickly converts this starch into nutritious malt sugar. Maltose is great food, and the weakest stomach digests and assimilates it without effort.

We all know that for many years physicians of highest standing in their profession have prescribed malt extracts, which contain a large percentage of maltose, or malt sugar, but which cost from 50 cents to $1 cents per pound. Malta-Vita, the crisp, delicious whole wheat food, contains eight to ten per cent of Maltose.

When Malta-Vita comes from the oven it is the crispest, most delicious food in the world, retailing only 1 per cent of moisture. The other 99 per cent is food—brain and bone and nerve and muscle food—and is not easily digested because the palatinized starch of the thoroughly cooked wheat has been converted by the malt extract into maltose (malt sugar).

The Malta-Vita company limits orders from every wholesale dealer to a quantity which the company knows can be disposed of quickly in the wholesaler's territory. The wholesaler, in turn, makes only such shipments to grocers as he knows they will be able to handle satisfactorily.

Thus the grocer's supply of Malta-Vita is always fresh and crisp as when it comes from the ovens to the big factory at Battle Creek—always the kind that melts in the mouth.

Malta-Vita is a food that is good for health the year 'round. It can be eaten three times a day by the sick or well. It is sustaining to the workingman, refreshing and invigorating to the invalid. At all grocers now 10 cents.

SENATOR DEPEW IS SUMMONED AS AN INSURANCE WITNESS

Name Appears in a $100,000 Equitable Syndicate Transaction.

NO PROFITS SHOWN

A PITTSBURGH COAL LOAN

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—Today's session of the legislative committee to investigate insurance, was given over to the matter of syndicate transactions of the Equitable Life Assurance Society. Henry R. Winthrop, assistant secretary and financial manager of the society, was again on the stand, and many of his statements were accompanied by typewritten documents giving the various transactions in detail. It was brought out that in one of these syndicates Senator Depew was a participant to the extent of $100,000. The senator was requested to appear before the committee.

Mr. Winthrop was unable to find where a record of the profits from a number of the syndicate transactions was made, and expert accountants, now at work on the books of the society, are expected to unearth these later.

The witness detailed a number of loans to the Equitable Trust and Mercantile Trust companies, as well as the sharing of these companies in syndicate transactions with the society.

Late in the day Henry Greaves, who was a clerk for George B. Squire, formerly a member of the finance committee, was called to supply some information regarding the "George H. Squire, Trustee," account, and from him it was learned there was, besides the "George H. Squire, Trustee," account, the "Marcellus Hartley Trustee," account and the "J. W. Alexander, Trustee," account.

Witness Has Bad Memory.

Mr. Greaves produced the bank book of the Squire account, and by means of it Mr. Hughes tried to trace amounts that would correspond to profits to this account; but the witness could not remember the items of the amounts deposited. Mr. Greaves was still on the stand when the session adjourned for the day.

Mr. Greaves, however, gave way temporarily to Mr. Winthrop, while Mr. Hughes queried further regarding syndicates. Mr. Winthrop was asked to furnish a list of the individual participants in syndicates and said President Morton was preparing such a statement. Mr. Winthrop said he had no positive information of the "James H. Hyde and associates" syndicates, but he expects to have.

Mr. Winthrop said that in the Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington and Long Island tours syndicate, managed by Kuhn, Loeb & Co., there were two participations, one of $500,000, the other of $100,000. The society derived profits of $2,386 on the $100,000, while J. W. Alexander, J. H. Hyde, G. H Squire and W. H. McIntyre divided the profits on $500,000. The Equitable put up $218,100. It has received no interest, neither has the money been returned, and when asked if the matter had been called to the attention of these gentlemen, Mr. Winthrop said, "It will be."

Schiff to Testify.

Jacob H. Schiff of Kuhn, Loeb & Co. was subpoenaed today, and it is expected he will appear to testify tomorrow or Friday. Mr. Schiff will be asked about the transactions of his firm with the New York Life Insurance Company as well as with the Equitable Life Assurance society.

In a Chicago, Burlington & Quincy purchasing syndicate, the Equitable society, Mr. Winthrop said, participated to the extent of $1,500,000, which share it apportioned among the Mercantile Trust Company, American Deposit and Loan Company, James W. Alexander, Louis Fitzgerald, James H. Hyde, Chauncey M. Depew, Marcellus Hartley, William A. Wheelock, George H. Squire and the Fidelity Title and Trust Company. Mr. Winthrop said the Equitable society paid J. P. Morgan & Co. for the entire call, but that the money subsequently was returned to the society with 4 per cent interest by George H. Squire acting for the other participants.

In the syndicate to underwrite St. Louis and Iron Mountain second mortgage 5 per cent bonds, Mr. Winthrop said the Equitable took over the Mercantile's entire participation of $1,500,000. The society withdrew its bonds. Its syndicate profits amounted to $54,601. Witness could not tell whether these checks went to the credit of the Equitable society or not. There was no record of the society's having received the money. The checks were drawn to the order of the society.

No Record of Profits.

In the Chicago & Northwestern syndicate, in which there was a participation of the Equitable to the extent of $1,250,000, Mr. Winthrop read a letter from Kuhn, Loeb & Co., in which that firm said it had forwarded a check for $12,500 as profits. This check witness has failed to find recorded on the books of the Equitable.

Mr. Winthrop said the Equitable society had made payments to Kuhn, Loeb & Co. in the Union Pacific syndicate of $500,000, $87,500 and $70,000, all of which were in response to demands made by James H. Hyde.

"As a matter of fact," said Mr. Hughes, "Mr. Hyde had not given his check, but the Equitable had."

"Yes."

Here Mr. Hughes read a letter addressed to President Paul Morton from James H. Hyde, in which the latter informed Mr. Morton that he had assigned to the Equitable society all his interest in the Union Pacific railroad stock. The letter was dated July 19, 1905.

Pittsburgh Coal Deal.

The witness was asked to explain an entry on the credit side of the mysterious George H. Squire account in 1902, showing receipts from a Pittsburgh coal loan. He said:

"I think the Equitable made a loan on this account and received not only the principal and interest, but a sort of bonus as well. This entry represents the bonus."

"So that the loan and its interest are borne in the books of the Equitable and the bonus was recorded in the George H. Squire trustee account?"

In this George H. Squire trustee account book the first entry was April 11, 1900, "$20 proceeds, R. and T." This was explained by Mr. Winthrop as meaning proceeds of Rope and Twine stock, but of this none had ever been owned by the Equitable. Other entries were equally unintelligible and so Henry Greaves, a clerk in the financial department of the Equitable, was called and sworn. He had worked under George H. Squire and had made the entries in the account book by his order.

"Can you tell us anything about this 'R. and T.' transaction," the witness was asked.

"I believe the R. and T. stock was collateral, which had been put up for a loan the Equitable made to John E. Searles and had been written off as worthless and was sold out," was the answer.

Going through the entries in the account book one by one, Mr. Hughes obtained the admission from the witness that one or two of the entries represented the profits made by the Equitable in syndicate transactions, but others related to participation in which Mr. Winthrop, who was called for the purpose, testified the Equitable had no part.

The Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington and Long Island railroad tours syndicate, managed by Kuhn, Loeb & Co., which was then taken up, developed that two participations, one of $500.00, the other of $100,000, were applied for by J. W. Alexander, J. H. Hyde, G. H. Squire and W. H. McIntyre and the Equitable society. The society derived profits of $2,386 on a participation of $100,000, while the four individuals mentioned by name divided among themselves the profit on $500,000.

"The Equitable put up all the money on the call, $218,100; it has not received any interest upon it and it has not received any of it back yet," said Mr. Winthrop.

Atlantic Coast Line Deal.

Mr. Winthrop was questioned concerning the Atlantic Coast Line syndicate which was managed by J. P. Morgan & Co. and in which the society received a part of what was allotted to "James H. Hyde and associates."

"What papers have you with regard to this syndicate?" asked Mr. Hughes.

"Two vouchers, one for payment to J. P. Morgan & Co. of $750,000, the other of $626,096 to the Equitable Trust Company."

"Why was there a payment to the Equitable Trust Company?"

"It was put there as a loan. The note of Eugene Barrington, clerk in the Equitable, was given for a loan and the payment was in repayment of the loan."

A letter from the Equitable Trust Company asking payment from the Equitable for interest on the loan of $626,096 was put in as evidence and the witness stated the only source of his information was the voucher, which was also filed. The transaction, he said, did not appear on the books of the Equitable society.

"From whom did the society receive a profit of $114,500?"

"I don't know whether it was from James H. Hyde and associates or from J. P. Morgan & Co."

"What positive information have you of the James H. Hyde and associates syndicates?"

"I have no positive information but I expect that we will have."

Received No Profits.

Mr. Winthrop said there was a participation to the extent of $2,000,000 in the Maryland railroad syndicate, our of which James H. Hyde and associates syndicate got nothing, but turned it all over to the Equitable, the latter paying all the money. There were no profits.

April 2, 1902, there was an entry in the account book showing that the George H. Squire, trustee, account had received from the Mercantile Trust Company the balance of the "M. H., Trustee," account, which stood for the Marcellus Hartley account.

Reading from a letter, Mr. Hughes brought out the fact that H. C. Deming, vice president, wrote under date of April 1, 1902, that to M. Hartley, trustee, a loan of $250,000 had been made, and there had been given for it as collateral $244,582 Third Avenue railroad bonds, and that to the Equitable Life Assurance Society was accredited a check for $5,631.15. This check was indorsed by George H. Squire, trustee. Greaves put in the vouchers for the payments under the George H. Squire, trustee, account.

Bought Japanese Bonds.

In the issue of Japanese imperial 6 per cent bonds the society participated to the extent of $750,000 in the first issue and $450,000 in the second. Then there was a participation on the part of James H. Hyde and associates of $2,000,000 and another of $1,200,000. The Equitable received a profit, but there was no record except the memoranda.

The imperial Japanese government 4½ bond syndicate of last March was participated in by the Equitable to the extent of $4,700,000, $400,000 of which it transferred to the Mercantile Trust Company and $800,000 to the Equitable Trust Company. The Equitable Life received $100,616 as profits; of these it kept $74,431 for itself and handed over the balance to the trust companies.

"Did not the Equitable Life become a large purchaser of these bonds?" asked Mr. Hughes.

"Yes, but we gave the profit of our purchase to the trust companies," said Mr. Winthrop.

On April 10 the Equitable subscribed $5,000,000 worth of bonds and received $2,500,000; of these it gave $800,000 to the Equitable Trust Company and $250,000 to the Mercantile Trust Company. The Equitable has now disposed of its holdings at a profit.

Mr. Hughes was reticent with regard to the program of tomorrow's proceedings. He stated that he intended to continue the examination of Mr. Greaves and the mysterious George H. Squire trustee account. As there are a number of entries yet to be considered in the new account and as there is very little light upon the mat present, a good deal of time will probably be consumed in trying to find out their true meaning.

Thursday, September 28, 1905.

Last evening's dinner at the Hotel Schenley might be described as the piece de resistance of the Editorial association meeting. Its courses were punctuated by addresses intended to convey to the assemblaged editors the greatness of Pittsburgh and the cordiality of its greeting to its guests. The diners proved appreciative listeners. During two days they had seen much of Pittsburgh, externally, and were prepared for the word pictures and the mental application of the assembled parts into the harmonious whole. The banquet was enjoyed in every sense, but, we hope, has not clogged the appetite of the city's guests for the feast of today.

An editor of a Democratic paper out in Illinois proposes the unanimous election of President Roosevelt in 1908. Theodore Roosevelt is a good man and has been a very good president. He has said he will not be a candidate again. It would seem the part of wisdom to drop this subject until about 1907. By that time one may see more clearly.

An illuminative discussion followed the presentation of a political Prohibition report in Cumberland presbytery yesterday. While the report was finally adopted as read, it may be taken for granted it will not bind the action of clergy or laity. There is such a wide gap between political prohibition and rational temperance that introduction of the subject in church meetings is worse than futile.

Former State Senator Arthur Kennedy properly characterizes the fairy tales that are being told on the stump by Homer Castle. Mr. Kennedy speaks for himself, but there is every reason to believe what he has said will apply with equal force to all others accused. It is simply ridiculous to suppose state funds have been made a matter of barter in so many cases as Mr. Castle would have the public believe.

Thomas J. Barnado, whose funeral occurred in London yesterday, was a philanthropist whose good works will live after him. He was the founder of Barnado's homes in London, primarily for the care of waifs from the streets. The work grew to huge proportions. Mr. Barnado extended his plan to finding homes for his proteges. He sent thousands to Canada and a considerable portion of the revenues for the support of the "homes" and the colonizing system now comes from former beneficiaries, who call Barnado's name blessed.

Three policemen were discharged yesterday for cause and the superintendent of the bureau makes a fine show of virtue in commenting on the fact. It might occur to him, though apparently it does not, that some one has been at fault in appointing policemen wholesale without ascertaining their qualifications. It may also occur to him that according to his own verdict there is another man on the force who should be discharged for the heinous offense of assaulting a woman. If that man has been discharged the public should be told of the fact.

In his address to the students of Columbia university yesterday President Nicholas Murray Butler pilloried the "reckless speculators with the money of others and petty pilfering of the savings of the poor and needy," attributing deplorable conditions laid bare by recent investigations to simple "lack of moral principle." This may be trite, but emphasis of the obvious is often necessary. Reiteration of the foundation principles of character, no matter how often we have heard them before, is a good thing, especially when addressing that class of young men upon whom, in great measure, the growing generation will depend for light and leading.

Disgusting Exhibition.

After a brave display of intentions Col. James M. Guffey, Democratic leader, surrendered yesterday to the logic of the situation and the selfishness of the plunder gang. The Democrats who have secured city and county offices from the fusion for spoils were too strong for the colonel, who merely pays the freight during the hopeless party campaigns. The name of Berry will not appear above the Citizens county ticket and the name of Clark will not appear among the elect in November.

If anything had been needed to finally condemn the Democratic-Citizens ticket to overwhelming defeat at the polls it has been supplied by the exhibition of this week. Col. Guffey's demand in behalf of Berry served to bring out the exact nature of the alliance in this county as well as to expose the Democracy underlying the alleged reform movement in the state. Col. Guffey is always a Democrat, open and above board. The fusion supporters are Democrats, for revenue only—revenue from the offices.

Incidentally the controversy shed a strong light on the manner in which "reform" tickets are made. There was no appeal to the people in any form, merely a battle between select committees, with the power of official patronage supreme. Contrast this with the Republican ticket, nominated in open primaries by the direct vote of the Republican electorate. Can any man hesitate in making decision which comes from the people and which is the creation of a coterie of bosses. And to the exhibition of bosses and office-holders making a ticket, the self-exposure of the Democratic Post, which has been yelling for "honest Republicans" to support Berry, but which finally advised leaving his name off the Citizens ticket, and that of the Leader growing hysterical in the fear that Col. Guffey would force Berry's name on that ticket. The mess is sickening to all whose consciences have not been so biunted by "reform" duplicity as to be unable to distinguish between honesty and deception. Honest Republicans, genuine, honest Republicans, will not touch either the bogus Democratic-Citizens county "reform," or the Democratic-Prohibition state "reform" with a 10-foot pole. Merely to look at them is almost a contamination.

A Monstrous Falsehood.

There has come to the attention of The Gazette an editorial in the Washington Post referring to an alleged race riot in one of the Pittsburgh schools. There never was any such riot. Nothing that could have been distorted into that semblance. Investigation discloses the origin of the story in an alleged telegram in the Philadelphia North American, under a Pittsburgh date. This account, dated September 21, says: "A race riot among the pupils at Shakespeare school today during recess was quelled by a squad of police." It is just a bald fake, an untruth in word and spirit.

Other tales, equally untrue, have appeared in the same paper under Pittsburgh date line. Whether these stories are sent out from this city or manufactured in Philadelphia it is not the for The Gazette to decide. This is not the first time attention has been called to them. They have cast discredit upon Pittsburgh and the good people of this city are aweary of the slanderous repetition.

It is surprising so careful and able a paper as the Washington Post should have commented on a story of this kind without looking up the Pittsburgh papers. Assuredly if there had been such an occurrence it would have been given attention here. In view of the fact that falsehoods are being printed in foreign papers by some miserable fakir it will be wisdom on the part of respectable newspapers to ignore stories not to be found in the papers of this city. The Gazette prints all of the news.

A Congress of Parents.

The congress of parents soon to be held in Brussels cannot but be regarded as an improvement upon the congress of mothers which annually invades some one or other of our cities. This is the first time, we believe, the father has received recognition of this character and has been invited to air his opinions, such as they are, on the rearing of children. This evidence of a disposition on the part of woman to admit that occasionally a man stumbles upon a good idea, by accident, cannot but be gratifying to the meeker, sometimes erroneously called the sterner, sex. Whether, after being invited, any man will be able to get a word in edgewise, we do not know. It is enough, for the present, to know the cause of man's emancipation is making progress. The day may yet come when woman will admit that one man in 10 knows how to hold the baby.

Since suggestions are asked for subjects to be discussed by the parents, it is to be hoped the men will not be too timid to do their share. One idea which, it seems, might with advantage be taken up by the congress, is the utilization of modern inventions in the training of children. There is a wide field for the phonograph, for instance. Few children realize in after years what a strenuous life they led their parents in the early days of infancy. Here is where Mr. Edison's invention comes in. Purchase an unusually strong machine, capable of standing strain, and record the infant's midnight howls. Then, when he has reached the age of 10, say, and is complaining of the parsimony of Pa in the matter of pocket money, turn on the phonograph and let him appreciate the debt he owes his venerable parents. The pedometer, registering the number of miles covered in nocturnal rambles around the bedroom, could also be employed to illustrate the white man's burden. These are but casual suggestions, which may not impress the parents in congress assembled, but they indicate how really practical and helpful the proceedings might be made if father were only permitted to get up and speak his piece.

Judge Taft's Report.

Secretary of War William H. Taft, who arrived at San Francisco yesterday, made public an impromptu but most illuminative summary of present conditions in the Philippines which justifies the inference that his prolonged journey has been an exceedingly profitable one. It is Mr. Taft's conclusion that the people of the Philippines are by no means qualified, as yet, for self government, and the advocates of the granting of immediate independence must wait for at least another generation. Indeed, Mr. Taft doubts seriously whether at the end of that period the Filipinos will have attained the desired standard for independent citizenship. Regarding the reports of disorder throughout the islands which have reached this country, and which have lost nothing in the telling by a portion of the partisan press, Mr. Taft states that a wave of Ladronism which swept over the province of Cavite, and some similar lawlessness in Batangas and on Samar, was suppressed by the vigorous action of troops and constabulary. Two or three men responsible for the disorder are still outlaws.

The general agricultural depression occasioned by a variety of causes, among them the loss of 75 per cent of the cattle, drought, locusts and the cholera, was the occasion for some unjust criticism of the government, but Mr. Taft sees no prospect for improvement for several years.

An interesting feature of the trip of inspection, as related by Mr. Taft, is the manner in which those senators and congressmen holding opposing views on Philippine questions refrained from discussion in the presence of their Filipino auditors. By this wise agreement expectant trouble makers were grievously disappointed. In the investigation of agricultural conditions especial attention was paid to the production of tobacco and sugar, in view of a possible change in the tariff at the coming session of congress. Numerous important questions of local interest to the Filipinos, which have been in abeyance, were given satisfactory settlement upon the arrival of Mr. Taft.

It is evident not only that Secretary Taft has fulfilled his important mission in an eminently satisfactory manner, and has returned with a singularly clear and exact understanding of Philippine conditions, but that those of our national legislators who accompanied him have enjoyed exceptional opportunities for the gaining of valuable information at first hand, the result of which should be apparent in the coming discussions in congress.

Homes for the Poor.

Consul Ernest L. Harris of Chemnitz, Germany, who recently reported to the government on the manner in which German workingmen are housed, was requested to make a similar investigation in England, and the result of his observations is contained in an instructive report just made public. The question of better dwelling places for the poor is one which has recently received deservedly increased attention in this country, due in part to Mr. Henry Phipps' plans in New York and Allegheny for this purpose. England has already met the problem bravely, and in the opinion of Consul Harris, sets an example to some other countries in this regard. The municipalities of England, it appears, are at present working along one of two lines: The clearing of unsanitary areas and rehousing the people in large tenements, and the building of workingmen's cottages on the outskirts of the city. Under the law, local authorities have the power to condemn and clear slum areas and rehouse the persons thus displaced. In England over 100 towns have engaged in this work, greatly improving the appearance of their communities and providing sanitary, comfortable homes for thousands of deserving poor. Referring to our own country, Consul Harris says: "In 1902 I visited many of the dwellings occupied by our working people in the United States. Taking the country as a whole, I am satisfied there is a wide field for philanthropy of this kind. There is nothing in the world which makes a man so happy, in the long run, as to have a neat home."

There is one feature in this practical philanthropy which should appeal to business men: It can be made to pay 5 per cent dividends. More than one English capitalist has made this profitable investment, with the gratifying consciousness that he was at the same time adding appreciably to the sum of human happiness.

Bryan to Roosevelt: "You have the contest of your life before you, and I desire to render you all the assistance in my power." Thereupon Mr. Bryan sailed forth on the broad expanse of the Pacific.

An Iowa clergyman's statement that the trouble afflicting most of the women members of his flock is "palpitation of the tongue" may lead to his retirement. The brave men are not all dead yet.

"Berry viewed the Democratic-Citizens row with his eyes shut."—Leader. It is pertinent to ask if the Leader has been taking the same view while keeping busy with its mouth.

A scientific writer says under certain conditions the human voice can utter 256 words a minute. Is this really "science," or merely the guess of a married man?

In view of the present epidemic of unauthorized statements, it is just as well to regard President Roosevelt as the mouthpiece of the administration.

In conducting his confidential conversation with the American congressmen the kaiser made the fatal mistake of not talking in German.

THE COUNTRY EDITOR AND HIS QUALITIES

Is a Distinct Institution in Journalism—Always a Delight and Joy.

By JOHN E. DAY.

The "country" editors are our guests. The term "country" editor defines nothing. It is quite indefinite, because there are a lot of country editors employed on the large metropolitan dailies, and they invariably measure up to the highest standards in journalism. They are naturally more studious of affairs and men because—well, because that is their business. Much fun has been poked at the country editor, and, as evidence of his sweet disposition, he never resents any slurs on his humble vocation. He bides his time, and as the years pass he comes to be an editor on a city paper, and he comes to the position magnificently equipped. Then he turns around and has fun with his former confreres. The country editor is never to be scorned. The supercilious attitude of some papers toward the country editor is a grave mistake. Suppose this country editor does mention that "John Jones' barn was painted yesterday." That is the literature of the village. It either compliments an old subscriber, or holds a wavering one. "Mrs. Brown's baby is ill with the measles," is just as important in the sphere of the country editor, as would be the announcement in the metropolitan daily that President Roosevelt skinned his knee in getting out of his carriage. It is the smallest of details chronicled, and always in pleasant humor, that makes for the successful country editor; and we might add the city editor often appears ridiculous in his eyes when some sloppy social event is dished up in the big newspapers.

The Country Editor an Institution.

The country editor is as much of an institution as his city colleague. Frequently he has the better of his city brother in molding public opinion, instead of following it. He is a versatile free lance, if he is sometimes a good-natured "lazy dog"—a term applied in the affectionate sense only. The country editor has what is called "the soft snap." When the old-time school books were in vogue, there was in "McGuffey's Fifth Reader" a poem, the first lines of which ran something like this:

The farmer sat in his easy chair,
Smoking his pipe of clay,
While his hale old wife, with busy care,
Was clearing the dishes away.

That is a picture of solid comfort and community of interest that cannot be matched in any city establishment. Without doing any violence to the poetic unities may we not be permitted to paraphrase the old McGuffey reader verse in favor of our patient country brother:

The editor squats on a three-legged stool,
Pulling hard an old stogie cigar,
While the "devil" at work is a chump, by rule,
And delinquents drink beer at the bar.

The Emoluments.

The subscription of the country paper is something wonderful to contemplate, when the credit side is looked over. There will be found such items as "by one bushel of potatoes," "by one peck of peaches" or "one barrel of apples"—all supposed by the subscriber to be equal to the coin of the realm, the real circulating medium. And for these emoluments the country editor labors on happy and satisfied. He writes lengthy obituaries, quaint quips, fulsome flatteries, while his readers often imagine he is overpaid. It never fesses his good humor, however. He keeps plodding along, full of the joy and sunshine of life, and in a contemplative mood will, perhaps, scratch off a couplet of exaltation that may follow these lines:

The sportive ghost and pensive cow
Hilarious hop from bough to bough.

The country editor has his fun as well as his fishing and hunting. He is often a vigorous man with the pen, writing more sense than nonsense. He is the very salt of the earth, and without him the world would be a barren ideality. He rises to supernal flights, and his flying machine never collapses. He is the most wholesome personage that "comes down the pike" to the annual meeting of the State Editorial association, and he is the most welcome and most appreciative visitor, his infinite variety being impervious to time and custom. He is always there with the brains and the goods.

Of all the observed congregation of pebbles on his own beach the rural editor, and admirable conservator of the doings of his "sphere of influence," is the most observable. He is IT at home, and IN IT abroad.

Orientals Great Imitators.

In one grewsome respect China seems to be awakening indeed to western civilization, somewhat too rapidly for her own comfort. We had supposed that bomb throwing was characteristic of Chicago and St. Petersburg, rather than of Cathay, but it seems that the swift imitativeness of the Mongolian has "caught on to" our western methods of moral suasion more promptly than ever the most temerarious herald of the Yellow Peril has anticipated. The bomb that was exploded in Pekin on Sunday was the signal of China's emergence into the lurid arena of occidental tricks and manners.—New York Tribune.

Able to Do Its Own Reforming.

It is not at all likely, therefore, that the president would be found on the side of the City party of Philadelphia when that organization is doing its best to defeat the Republican party in Pennsylvania. The Republican party of Pennsylvania is a grand collection of responsible and free citizens. It is not to be held up to scorn because of charges against a few contractors in Philadelphia. It is quite big enough to do its own reforming.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

PARKHURST BELIEVES IN MAYOR M'CLELLAN

Says Young Executive Has Instincts of a Gentleman and Will Win if Nominated.

By FRANK A. PARKER.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—The Rev. Dr. Charles H. Parkhurst returned from Europe today and gave the opinion fusion cannot win in the coming election because there is too much "graft" as an incentive to Tammany. He also said McClellan has made a good mayor, considering the organization handicap; that he has not surrendered to Fourteenth street entirely; that he has the advantage over most Tammany men of being a gentleman by instinct, and that if renominated he will win. In addition, Dr. Parkhurst praised District Attorney Jerome and Inspector Schmittberger, said he favored municipal ownership of gas plants, and discussed the insurance developments.

"McClellan has given the city a clean administration, as far as it was possible," he said. "He has been handicapped by the organization back of him, and yet he has shown by his actions in many respects that he did not sell himself body and soul to Tammany Hall. It should not be lost sight of that McClellan, no matter what some of those associated with him may be, is a gentleman and has the instincts of a gentleman. I believe Mayor McClellan will win, if nominated, for the reason there is no urgent question up for the consideration of the people at this time."

Parkhurst on Municipal Ownership.

Of the question of municipal ownership Dr. Parkhurst said: "I believe municipal ownership must soon be tried. We have come to the point where it is desirable for municipalities to take hold of certain things—gas, of course. I don't believe in a paternal government, but we have been so played with and fooled by corporations and great interests that we ought to experiment with municipal ownership. Of course this has its dangers. The greater the number of lines of interest the city controls the greater becomes the power of the political party which controls the city."

Mr. Marshall Brings Three News Items.

William Marshall, owner of the yacht Atlantic, which won the race across the Atlantic for the kaiser's cup, returned from Europe today in the Oceanic, and made three important announcements: First, that Robert P. W. Houston, member of parliament for Liverpool, will issue a challenge for the America's cup; second, that King Edward is thinking of offering a cup for another trans-Atlantic yacht race; third, that Sir Thomas Lipton will not issue a challenge to race for the America's cup next year.

Republicans Want Straight Ticket.

Sentiment among the Republican district leaders of Greater New York is practically unanimous in favor of breaking off negotiations with the Citizens Union and running a straight ticket. This sentiment was expressed today in an important conference in the Republican club. Out of 25 district leaders only four spoke in favor of fusion, and they were only lukewarm. They merely stated that in previous years that districts have benefited by fusion, but they did not wish it to be understood that they were unqualifiedly for fusion this year.

Great Doings in Inverness.

W. S. Elliott, a Baltimore broker, returned Saturday from a holiday trip spent in England and Scotland. While in the latter country he visited Inverness and of some of the things he saw there he gave this account at the Waldorf: "I was one of a party of six American friends, and we had the time of our lives," he said. "From Edinburgh we went in an automobile to Inverness. We found that town overflowing with kilts and countesses, belted earls and bloodthirsty looking garbered highland chiefs—the garters being worn, I noticed, with rosettes on tartan stockings. A week after our arrival the Highland games, known there as the northern meeting, were held."

Mr. Carnegie as the Laird.

"All the big bugs from the surrounding country were at the meeting," Mr. Elliott continued. "I saw 'Andy' Carnegie among the lot. He had the kilts on, and he looked just as braw a Scot as any of them. Mr. Carnegie acted the part of the good Samaritan at the close of the games. He invited all those who took an active part in the contests to one of the local hotels, where he treated them to a haggis and champagne supper. I don't know just how many braw and thirsty Scots accepted the invitation, but I reckon there was at least a thousand of them, so you can imagine what the cost must have been. The champagne flowed like water. There was beer and whisky a-plenty, too, and each man could have as many cigars as he could carry."

SOME GOOD STORIES OF PITH AND MOMENT

Gossipy Chat and Anecdote of Entertaining and Instructive Character.

"I wish," said a woman who has compiled a cook book, "that somebody would tell me the date of the gastronomic New Year. Does it coincide with the calendar New Year, or has it a special date of its own? I have questioned several epicures on the subject. They all have an opinion of their own, which seems to be regulated by individual appetite.

"The most popular date appears to depend upon the annual rehabilitation of the oyster.

"'Date your first menu September 1,' say the slaves of that bivalve, 'and you can't go astray.'

"Others with a predilection for the national bird advise the first of November, so as to give the turkey a good sendoff. An English friend suggests that Christmas dinner occupy the page of honor on account of the beginning of the plum pudding season.

"Personally, I incline to the first of May as the most appropriate New Year. The markets are then stocked with fresh fruits and vegetables and it strikes me that the temporary retirement of canned goods is an event worth celebrating. Another friend, however, suggests that the only really appropriate culinary New Year is the middle of August, when corn on the cob attains its full glory. The colored man who sweeps down our steps has still another opinion.

"'Dat New Year you am talkin' about,' he says, 'begins with the bustin' of de first watermelum from Georgia.'

"With that abundance of conflicting advice to choose from I am sadly in need of authoritative information as to the real date of the chef's New Year."—New York Sun.

Convinced He Was Sick.

An Irishman had appendicitis. They took him to the hospital, laid him on the operating table, gave him ether and tied a small monkey on a shelf where he would see it when he regained consciousness. He saw it grinning and chattering.

"What's that?"

"Sh—be quiet! That's what we took from you."

He uttered a groan and said: "Be ye child or devil, I dun know, but your mother is a very sick man!"—New York Times.

Quite Unfortunate.

A certain merchant of Baltimore, who is well known for his philanthropic spirit, was approached one day by an Irishman, formerly in his employ, who made a touching appeal for financial assistance, said he:

"I trust, sor, that ye'll find it convanient to help a poor man whose house an' everything in it was burned down last week, sor."

The merchant, although he gives with a free hand, exercises considerable caution in his philanthropy, so he asked:

"Have you any papers or certificates to show that you have lost everything by fire, as you say?"

The Irishman scratched his head as if bewildered. Finally he replied:

"I did have a certificate to that effect, sor, signed before a notary; but unfortunately, sor, it was burned up with the rest of me effects!"—Harper's Weekly.

Up to Date Advertising.

Paul Mehr, the world's champion trolley car rider—Mr. Mehr rode in August by trolley from Philadelphia to Maine, a distance of 1,400 miles—is a man of original and advanced views.

"Mehr," said a friend of the young man, "keeps in touch with all modern and up-to-date things. He can tell you how they harnessed Niagara, how A. G. Bell makes his tetrahedral kite-aeroplanes, how the Pasteur Institute prolongs life by means of sour milk, and so on and so forth.

"The other night a group of men were talking about a valuable dog that had been lost. The owner had advertised, but nothing had come of it. Mehr said, laughing:

"'Harry you don't advertise in the right way. The papers told us the other day that a lot of yellow fever mosquitoes had been brought to town for experimental purposes, didn't they. I'd have coupled that interesting fact to my ad. I'd have made it read like this:

"'Lost—From chemical laboratory, a small Boston bull, with collar marked Bob. The animal has been much experimented on for scientific purposes with the stegomyia fasciata, or yellow fever mosquito, and may involuntarily become a source of danger to the community.'"

Mehr laughed.

"That notice would have brought back the dog," said he."—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Roosevelt as a Humorist.

Dean Shaler of Harvard university remarked, not long ago, that he had discovered that President Roosevelt is something of a wag. This rather surprising remark aroused curiosity, and, after some questioning, the dean was induced to explain.

A few days before the election last November a member of the cabinet met the dean in Boston, and as they parted the secretary inquired: "What shall I say to Theodore for you?"

To this the dean, with his customary candor and vigor, replied: "Give him my regards and tell him I'll be d—d if I'll vote for him."

He had entirely forgotten his message to the president until a few days after the election, when he received the following note from the White House:

"Dear Dean—Judging by the size of our majority, you must have changed your mind.—T. R."—Cleveland Leader.

No Taint on This Money.

A correspondent says he awaits with much interest the Sun's reply to two questions concerning the New York Life's contribution of about $50,000 to the Republican campaign fund last year. Until it is shown that this money was dishonestly and unlawfully employed there is no taint upon it. It carried no taint into the party treasury. It left no stain on Mr. Cortelyou's hands. It dishonored in no way the candidate in whose interest it was expended.—New York Sun.

Made One True Hit.

Whatever estimate the public may place upon Mr. Lawson's contributions to the sum total of human knowledge it cannot be said that he overrated in respect to the big insurance companies.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

How the Candidate Is Deceived.

This is the season of the year when the candidates listen with ear expectant for "the voice of the people," and is often deceived, alas! by talking machines.—New York Herald.

WHEN THE VOICE CHANGES.

I'm worried dogmone near to death,
There's somethin' wrong with me.
Most every time I try to talk
My voice runs up to "G."
I start out just as natural
As anyone could speak,
But 'fore I say a dozen words
I somehow, start to squeak.

It used to be I sang right good,
Just goin' some an' the like,
But now my voice gits cracked so much
I'm 'fraid a note to strike.
Today while talkin' to a girl
My voice began to crack,
She walked on me: "You talk just like
A turkey," down the track.

My voice is sich an' that it's low—
Oh, just 'bout half an' half,
I'm 'shamed to use it, 'cause it makes
Most everybody laugh.
Ma, she it's changin', an' that soon
I'll talk 'bout diff'rent lines,
I notice my clothes it all
I'd start a-makin' signs.

STORIES FOUND IN THE LOBBIES

Interesting Happenings Concerning the People Who Are Traveling.

The Pennsylvania railroad ran in last night sleeping cars to Atlantic City, but after all that means that after today passengers bound for that fashion plate will have to change cars at Philadelphia. There were several passengers bound for Atlantic City last night. The Pennsylvania has carried many thousands of passengers to the coast the past season. Outside of the regular Atlantic City excursions, when the trains were always full, visitors to Atlantic City exceeded in number those of previous seasons.

"At present the scene can be changed in the course of the new play, and I predict a wonderful career for it. I leave it to the Pittsburgh public to pass judgment upon it. I shall spend almost every moment of my time between now and next Tuesday evening preparing 'The Girl of the Golden West' for her initial bow to the public, and I will make every endeavor to have her in readiness to win the love and affection of the theatergoing public."

Stupendous Publication.

One of the marvels in the way of technical journal publications is the current issue of the Street Railway Journal, published by the McGraw Publishing Company of New York city. The elaborate assemblage of facts and features in this publication speaks volumes for the enterprise of the editors, compilers and publishers. The edition comprises three sections, a cover section, a current news section, the regular issue of the paper for the week and a "Philadelphia Convention" section. It is printed in book form, and is of rare typographical beauty. It contains 184 reading pages, over 250 pages of advertisements and about 60 pages devoted to a dictionary of electric railway material, supplies and apparatus. This dictionary gives definitions for practically everything used by an electric railway, and its publication is an entirely new departure in technical journalism. The cover design of the convention souvenir issue has for its central idea an artistic presentation of the Liberty bell, with a conventional reproduction of Independence hall and an old stage coach at the left, and the Philadelphia City hall with a modern electric railway car at the right. The two scenes thus serve to emphasize the progress made in transportation matters as well as the growth of Philadelphia. The reading pages are printed on a rough finished white paper, and the half-tone illustrations, of which there are several hundred, appear on full-page inserts printed on a handsome coated paper.

Merely a Question of Preference.

During the past six months 7,000 persons of British origin emigrated to Canada, while 6,000 emigrated to the United States. The Ottawa immigration bureau needs overhauling. There must be something wrong in a department that permits Canada to get the go-by from so many desirable settlers.—Toronto Mail.

Will Be Bee-Berry in November.

From the way he appears to be swallowing everything thrown down before him by his political managers, the impression is growing that the Democratic-Prohibition-Reform candidate for state treasurer will be goose-Berry.—Cedar Rapids Iowa Tribune.

Chicago's Intermediate Needs.

"Chicago's right form is paralyzed," says Mayor Dunne. Does striking out much and too hard. Chicago needs a long rest from the walking delegate.—Kansas City Journal.

The Carrots, for Instance.

It is simply repeating a self-evident proposition to say that there is no better advertising medium than the columns of an enterprising daily newspaper.—Scranton Truth.

East Bellevue

real estate is flying so fast into the hands of homeseekers, that wonderful building activity is sure to result.

IF you could talk with the people who have purchased at East Bellevue, or could stand aside and listen to the resolutions that they make as they buy, you'd hear something that would enable you to gain fame as a prophet.

You would then know that rapid influx of population to East Bellevue is inevitable. You could then say to your friends and neighbors: "I am positive that the clear-air suburb will be built up wonderfully fast. Investors are buying sites for that purpose. Every now and then an enthusiastic purchaser makes inquiry as to how soon the water mains will be laid to his lot. He is anxious to build."

That's a sample of the marvelous enthusiasm manifested by many, yes, very many, of the East Bellevue purchasers.

We answer relative to the query about water, that water will be piped to and through the property within thirty days. It will be the same pure sand-filtered city water that is supplied to Bellevue and West View.

This germ-proof Bellevue water will be one of the magnetic qualities which will distinguish East Bellevue. But only one of those qualities. First on this GREAT QUALITY LIST is the wonderful belt-line trolley system; second, the property's unequaled location outside of the Neville Island smoke-zone; third, the character of the street and city improvements; fourth, the property's proximity to the Bellevue frontage that has brought $50 to $60 a foot; fifth, the astonishingly small prices that have been tagged on the East Bellevue lots, all of which have building restrictions.

We might go on naming the other qualities which are making this grand new suburb an unprecedented proposition; but one cannot do all of life's duties at one time.

Many persons who cannot get out to the property during the day are

COMING AT NIGHT AND SELECTING THEIR SITES UNDER THE GLOW OF THE ELECTRIC LIGHTS.

Many who have come to look over the property by sunlight, unprepared to buy, are returning in the evenings to make their purchases by the white rays of the electric carbons. The big electric lamps, in fact, have proven to be a wonderful convenience. Everybody sees in them an evidence that East Bellevue is planned on thoroughly up-to-date lines.

Of the great number of persons who are making purchases of East Bellevue property, it is surprising to note that the largest percentage of buyers thus far are Alleghenians. Many well-known families who live down in the heart of Allegheny, well-to-do people who have resolved time and again to sell their homes and move out to the fresh air and the pure water, are now putting their oft-repeated resolutions into effect to an extent that is surprising.

At no time will it be possible to plant industries close enough to East Bellevue to send any smoke clouds there. People of the Eleventh Ward of Allegheny and lower Bellevue and Avalon never fail to make remarks about this one overwhelming fact.

They've had enough of the smoke-zone. They want to take their atmosphere straight in the future.

East Bellevue's streets are graded, sewered, piped with gas, electric lighted and have granolithic-stone sidewalks.

Take on Ninth Street or on Liberty Avenue at Wood Street or Sixth Avenue, a

Bellevue or a West View Car.

Both lines are completed to the property, although over widely different routes.

Prices range from $100, $150, $200, $300, $350, $400 to $1,000, on terms of 5 per cent down and 2½ per cent monthly, with 10 per cent discount for cash.

Architect's plans free to purchasers.

Provisional Premium Bonds, provisioned to earn 5 to 25 per cent, also free to purchasers.

BERRY RESORTS TO ELECTRICITY

Dual Candidate for Treasurer Utilizes His Mechanical Knowledge at Political Meeting.

ADDRESSES MIXED AUDIENCE

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

BUTLER, Pa., Sept. 27.—An audience of Democrats, Republicans and Prohibitionists was addressed this evening in the Majestic theater by William H. Berry, the nominee of the Democratic and Prohibition parties for state treasurer. The meeting was called to order by Chairman Edward McShane of the Democratic county committee, and the speaker of the evening was introduced in a brief speech by the Hon. Livingston McQuiston.

Mr. Berry illustrated his remarks with an exhibition of electrical mechanisms. He illustrated the formation of a political party by an electro magnet, first a single wire representing a man or idea, then the coil of wire, each coil representing a man, then the horseshoe-shaped iron bar of principle was inserted and the great political electro-magnet was formed. Thus was the Republican party created in the days of Freemont and Lincoln by good Democrats, who had grown tired of the oligarchy who were dictating the candidates and policies of the Democratic party.

By bringing the ends of the electro-magnet together a ring was formed, a thing altogether useless for creating power, which expended all the heat and energy sent into it on itself. Such a thing is in control of the Republican party in Pennsylvania today, he said, a machine permeated with graft, a vampire on the good citizenship of the state, operating by buying the dishonest, scaring the timid and fooling the loyal, honest voters of the party.

Ten millions of dollars is held by favored banks, he said, while every year the school appropriations are not paid until many months after they are due. A monument was erected to Matthew Stanley Quay with money obtained by cutting down appropriations to hospitals and charitable institutions. Five state treasurers or men made responsible for the manipulations of the bosses in the treasury department have committed suicide.

But if the Republican ring stole every dollar the state owned, he said, it would be as nothing compared to the greatest crime, the debauching of the ballot of the state by bogus, fraudulent ballots and dishonest voting methods. He read a letter from Chairman William R. Andrews, of the Republican state committee, to a banker near Mr. Berry's home. The letter told how the world would stand aghast if Pennsylvania allowed such a terrible calamity as Berry's election, and wound up with "we need money, send us some."

WHO IS TO GET $300?

Money Belonged to Man Who Was Drowned and His Friends Are in Quandry.

Because no one can be found who is willing to be responsible for the disposition of $300 found in the trunk of Wasel Barniak, a South Side Slav who was drowned in the Ohio river near McKees Rocks on June 24, several Slavs of the South Side are greatly bothered. Coroner Armstrong, Register Stengel, Alderman Edgar and Police Inspector Werner have refused to handle the money. Barniak's body, so far as known, has never been recovered.

After the man's death his cousin Peter Uregak, broke open the trunk and found the $300. He paid Valentine Wasecko, a South Side undertaker, $100 to pay the funeral expenses, and then wrote the dead man's mother in the old country telling her of Barniak's death and that he had left $200. She asked that the money be sent her, and as Barniak's body was not discovered Uregak asked the undertaker to return the $100. He refused to give it to Uregak, but says he will turn it over to a person he believes will be responsible for its disposal.

BIG FIRE AT ISTHMUS.

By Sheer Good Luck the City of Colon Is Saved from Complete Destruction.

COLON, Sept. 27.—By sheer good luck the city of Colon was saved from complete destruction by fire last night. The fire broke out in a building next to the residence of the Spanish consul, and soon destroyed the Phoenix hotel, an American-owned building, two other hotels, several liquor saloons and several tenement buildings. Rowe's building, containing the post-office, the offices of the municipality, of Gov. Melendez, the port inspectors, the judiciary and other offices, together with the treasury building, also were burned.

Nearly all the records and documents of the government were destroyed. The sanitary authorities are erecting tents in the fire zone to shelter the homeless.

TURKISH SULTAN'S RULE CONDEMNED BY NEPHEW

Prince Sabaheddine Appeals to Ottoman Armenians to Obtain Civilization.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

PARIS, Sept. 27.—Prince Sabaheddine, a nephew of the sultan of Turkey, today, in the form of an open letter, issues a stirring appeal to the Ottoman Armenians in which he strongly condemns the throwing of bombs and invites them to join the young Turks in order to obtain civilization in Turkey by enlightened means.

The prince points out that violence merely aggravates the situation and causes reprisals. Even should Europe interfere it would never effect an improvement in conditions in Turkey, owing to the necessarily transitory character of its intervention.

The proper means for effecting the modernization of Turkey, the prince continues, are augmented and individual effort, in which, irrespecting of religion or race, the Armenians should work together with the young Turks, who continue to strive hopefully toward the building up of a modern and liberal Turkey, despite the efforts of the effete Hamidian government to crush them out by imprisoning 20,000 of their number and exiling many more.

NOT A CONVICTED MURDERER THERE

For the First Time in Its History County Jail Is Free of This Class of Prisoner.

HAS 17 CHARGED WITH CRIME

For the first time in the 18 years of its existence, the Allegheny county jail has not a convicted murderer confined within its walls. This condition has gone on uninterrupted since April 27, on which date Walter Obey, Charles Miles and Charles Jackson were taken from their cells to the jail yard, and executed for the murder of George Kluzon at Leetsdale on May 8, 1904.

To Warden Edward Lewis and his assistants the last five months have been making history, and when the annual report is made up the five months will be a feature of the report. The absence of convicted murderers is not taken, however, as an indication that less crime is being committed in Allegheny county than in former years, because the jail up to last night had within its walls 17 persons who are charged with the crime of murder. These people are: Joseph Carmencine, Cornelius Coombs, a negro; Michael Divojakowski, Henry Frederick, Antonio Grande, Norman H. Guyser, John Graney, Thomas Guilltwitch, Milos Miloscvic, Peter Agelski, Max Szczochowski, Sophie Scott, a negress; Nicholas Suckla, Nicholas Kosonovitch, Joseph Golusky, Bolis Davidowski, John Williams, a negro.

Warden Edward Lewis.

Discharge 83 Prisoners in One Day.

Since the September term of court began the jail calendar is being cleaned up rapidly, while the aldermen and justices of the peace are also cleaning up their dockets. The number of prisoners is being reduced rapidly and on Tuesday the jail made another record by discharging 83 prisoners on that day. This number is the largest ever discharged during a single day in the history of the jail. During the same 24 hours the employes at the jail handled a total of 177 prisoners.

During the last five months the guard who watches over the convicted murderers has been getting some relief. There is no death watch on duty in the jail now. The convicted murderers are not allowed to take exercise at the same time as the other prisoners. Their exercising time is from 8 to 9 a. m. and from 2 to 3 p. m.

Up to last evening there were 360 prisoners in the jail, and the highest number confined there on any one day so far this year was 490. Last year the record for one day was 495. Some of the prisoners do not remain so long as they did last year, as they find it is much easier to secure bail, which is due to the general prosperity of the country.

Warden Lewis' Numerous Family.

During 1904 there were 13,305 prisoners committed to the county jail, and from the number handled so far Warden Lewis expects about the same number of prisoners will have been committed by the end of this year. Of the prisoners committed last year 1,185 were charged with crimes of violence, 1,863 with burglary, larceny, embezzlement, forgery and fraud, 5,193 for drunkenness, 2,323 for disorderly conduct, 1,022 as suspicious persons, 1,059 for trespass, 889 for vagrancy, 525 for indecency, disorderly houses, etc.; 241 for desertion, non-support, neglect, etc.; 151 for illegal liquor selling, 167 for surety of the peace, 105 for gambling, 140 for violating city ordinances, 84 for incorrigibility, 80 for malicious mischief, 49 for misdemeanor, 53 as witnesses and 76 for various offenses.

Of the 13,305 there were 809 who were under 18 years old. There were 7,100 common laborers, 2,207 skilled mechanics, 279 school boys and girls, 235 clerks, 75 belonging to professions, and the remainder were divided up among the various occupations. There were 8,465 American prisoners committed and a total of 4,900 of all other nationalities. The married prisoners numbered 4,744, and the single 8,561. Of the 13,305 only 1,972 could not read or write. The female prisoners numbered 1,099, and the colored prisoners, 1,918.

During the year Sheriff Dickson conducted seven executions. For a given 11 months he conducted 12 executions, which is twice the number conducted by any other sheriff of this county during the entire period of his administration.

Prizes for Fancy Costumes.

For tomorrow evening at Luna park a fancy dress carnival and promenade has been arranged, when many are expected to appear in fancy costume, but without masks. To the lady wearing the handsomest costume, a prize of $15 will be given, and a like sum to the gentleman. For the most grotesque or comical costume worn, $10 will be given to the lady, and a like sum to the gentleman. In addition to these prizes, other prizes will be given.

TOOLE DENIES STORY.

Select Councilman Said He Had No Connection With the Loughran or Cavanaugh Case.

Police Superintendent Wallace yesterday sent to District Attorney Stewart a stenographic report of the statement of H. A. Lande, the prosecutor in the case of George Loughran and Matt Cavanaugh, in which he claimed he had been told to go into the grand jury room by Select Councilman P. P. Toole; that everything had been fixed up, and that he was to tell his story. Wallace advises the district attorney that he will furnish him any assistance possible to get at the bottom of the affair.

Toole makes a complete denial of Lande's statement, claiming he does not know either Lande or Loughran. He said he was standing in front of the court house and directed Lande where to go into the court house. He said Lande had complained to him that his money was tied up by the police, and he told him to explain that he needed it. Toole says he was not in the grand jury room, and denies all connection with the case.

TO FIGHT TRADING STAMPS.

Organization Formed in Allegheny to Abolish Premiums Among Merchants.

For the purpose of perfecting an organization to abolish the trading stamp, 75 merchants of Allegheny met last night in Kenyon's hall, Federal street.

Jacob Schoenfeld was acting temporary chairman. Permanent officers are: President, Alfred Watson; vice president, Henry G. Rese; recording secretary, Joseph J. Lamb; financial secretary, Thomas Kenyon; treasurer, Charles Dosch. The body is to be known as the United Retailers' Anti-Stamp Protective association of Allegheny county.

The movement is planned to extend into every part of Allegheny county.

President Watson named H. C. McKelvy, Z. E. Ziegler and Thomas Kenyon as a committee to draft a constitution, and will make their report at a meeting to be held in Kenyon hall next Wednesday evening.

CAUSED BY BOYCOTT.

Agitation Against American Goods Is Believed to Be the Prime Cause of Bomb Throwing in China.

PEKING, Sept. 27.—Nothing has transpired yet regarding the motive of last Sunday's bomb throwing. Prominent Chinese believe it was a direct outcome of the anti-American boycott movement, the more violent of the agitators resenting the restraining measures of the government. The generally accepted view of the affair is that it was directed against the dynasty.

The thrower of the bomb has not so far been identified, but he is known to belong to the better classes. Viceroy Yuan Shai Kai of the Chi Li province is taking energetic steps to capture the conspirators.

HOLDS WOMAN; THEN SHOOTS HER

Cornelius Coombs Is on Trial Charged With Killing Landlady Through Revenge.

TELLS OF FATHER'S CRUELTY

Charged with the murder of Mrs. Mary E. Dickerson, a negress who kept a boarding house in McKeesport, Cornelius Coombs, a negro, was yesterday placed on trial. Mrs. Dickerson was shot by Coombs, it is alleged, because she had had him arrested for disorderly conduct at her house. When Coombs was released after paying a fine he purchased a revolver and is said to have gone to the woman's house and started to shoot. After shooting Joseph Simmons, one of the boarders, three times, he chased Mrs. Dickerson out of the house and shot her several times while she was running along Juniata street. She died a few hours later at the McKeesport hospital. Attorneys W. P. Petty and Joseph Mayhugh represent Coombs. Half a dozen witnesses who saw Mrs. Dickerson shot testified, the principal witness being Simmons, who is still suffering from the bullet wounds inflicted by Coombs, he says. He told how Coombs, without warning, started to shoot, hitting him twice while he was seated at a table, and after reloading his revolver, had chased Mrs. Dickerson out into the street, and catching her, shot her in the breast.

Commissioner W. B. Madden filed his report in the suit of Annie E. Short against Stephen T. Short. Mrs. Short wants a divorce on the allegations that he is an excessive drinker and failed to support her or their five children.

Wife Makes Ugly Charges.

They were married February 9, 1885, and separated 14 years later. She says that during the first years of their married life he was a good husband, but in the last years they were together he spent nearly all the money he made for drink. He was mean to their children, once coaxed their two oldest boys away from her and kept them until they returned to her looking like tramps.

Once, she says, he abused their 3-year-old child by giving him a mouthful of horse-radish and when she washed out the vegetable he again took the child and gave him a lot of red pepper sauce. After he left her, she says, he called at her door one day and remarked that he simply called to tell her that he would call later on. This, she says, was construed by her as a threat to kill her, as he often said he would shoot her, and she had been afraid of him ever since.

Testimony was also filed by Commissioner J. H. Bisins in the suit of James Shaw against Anna Shaw. This libellant says they were married July 14, 1902, and separated September 12, 1903. He says he doesn't know why his wife left him, as he always provided well for her. But she simply went to live with her son at Industry and said she would not live with him any longer.

A libel in divorce was filed by Naton Choski against his wife, Ollie Choski, charging her with infidelity.

Morris Silverman, a junk dealer, was placed on trial before Judge Macfarlane in criminal court on a charge of larceny. Silverman was accused of the larceny of 10 tons of scrap iron belonging to the Oliver Iron Company, from a car on the South Side. Silverman admits getting the iron, but claims he purchased it from a man who said he was the owner.

Provides for a Monument.

David Moffett directs in his will that $200 is to be spent for a monument and it is to be on a solid foundation, at least four feet underground. The will has been filed for probate. He leaves all his realty to his sisters, Sarah Moffett and Eliza Jane Moffett, and the stocks in his name to be shared by the two sisters with James Moffett of Kentucky, a brother. The value of his estate has not been estimated. Attorney Thomas Herriott represents the estate.

Robert Paul, late a resident of Lawrenceville, leaves the residue of his estate to his widow, Mary M. Paul, and a lot on Forty-fourth street to his adopted son, John F. Paul. Attorney D. C. Rearden has charge of the estate.

Samuel Wallace, who lived at Morgan, bequeaths his estate to his widow, Susanna, during her life. At her death his daughter, Minnie, is to receive $500, after which it is to be divided equally among all the children. Attorney H. Kennedy represents the executors.

Chief of Police George Foster of Carnegie was brought into criminal court yesterday after being held by a coroner's jury for shooting George Irwin. The case was explained to Judge Macfarlane, who issued an order releasing Foster on $5,000 bail. The bond was approved at once and Foster given his liberty.

An affidavit of defense was filed by the defendant in the suit of Janette E. Plons of New York against Paulson Bros. Company, an action to recover salary alleged to be due on a contract. The defendant admits that on February 16, 1903, it entered into a contract with the plaintiff for 18 weeks at a salary of $45 a week, upon her representations that she was possessed of special skill as a designer and creator of woman's hats. The defendant says that after giving the plaintiff a fair trial the hats turned out by her were of inferior and unrecognized design and caused an actual injury to the defendant company's business, as they had to be sold at a loss. The defendant also says that the plaintiff was wasteful in her use of the material furnished to her. The defendant admits that they are liable to the plaintiff in the sum of $17, her fare back to New York, and that she was offered this amount but refused to accept it.

Waiver No Barrier to Damages.

Francis A. O'Neil filed a suit against the Pittsburgh, Bessemer & Lake Erie Railroad Company, asking $10,000 damages for the death of her husband, who was killed, she claims, through negligence.

Judge Buffington gave judgment for the plaintiff in the case of John Chapman against the Pittsburgh Railways Company. Chapman was a brakeman on a B. & O. car and while standing on top of a car was scraped off and injured by a trolley wire. The court decides that, despite signing a waiver, he can recover damages.

The following true bills were returned by the grand jury: Felonious assault, Fred Johnston, Mike Prestic; false pretense, G. S. Doherty; felony, Joseph Balsano; larceny, Joseph Miller et al; aggravated assault, Lillian Fairfax, Thomas Konigy, Frank Kachur, Patrick Ryan, Laura Soiglitz, George Toenco; forcible entry and detainer, John McCormick; assault and battery, J. O. Bridgeman, Bertha Charles, L. Olsson, H. S. Hyndman, R. E. Keys, John Lotzle, William Mellon, M. D. Marshall, Mary McGraine, Mart Marshall, Arshim Starla; misdemeanor, L. T. Bryon, Dan Davis, George J. Limber, Anthony Reddington et al, Clarence Riddle, C. B. Richardson.

Executions entered: Mortgage Banking Company against Catherine Anna Hudleston, executrix of Clara S. Hudleston, $998.62; the Rev. J. F. Heckert against Robert N. McElroy, $7,000.

BRIDGE COMPANY SUED.

United States District Attorney Will Fight to Have Union Bridge Officials Punished.

The rule against the Union Bridge Company to show cause why it should not have an information made against it for failure to have its bridge conform to existing laws was made permanent by Judge Buffington yesterday.

Immediately after this was done United States district attorney lodged the information before W. T. Lindsay as United States commissioner.

The information is based on the allegation that during the month of July, 1905, the company maintained an unreasonable obstruction to the navigation of the Allegheny river. A full history of the proceedings before the war department to have the bridge raised is given and the failure of the company to obey the order to raise the structure is recited. The information will be laid before the United States grand jury, which meets on October 16 and the first fight will follow when the defense moves to quash the indictment.

IN SUPREME COURT.

Fall Term Opens Monday, October 9, and Many Appeals Are Being Taken.

The fall term of the supreme court opens Monday, October 9. Two capital cases are on the list and one Allegheny county case. The business of the first week will be taken up with Armstrong, Cambria, Clarion, Forest, Jefferson, Mercer, Somerset, Venango and Westmoreland county appeals.

An appeal was filed in the case of the United States for use of Wilson, Bailey & Co., now for use of Frank Shannon against the Merchants Trust Company as bondsmen for Huling Bros., who had a contract for supplies on dam No. 6, Ohio river. Robert C. Hall took appeals in two cases in which he wants the Pennsylvania railroad restrained from using Liberty avenue and Third street. Frank Johnson, found guilty of murder in Lawrence county, also appealed.

Too Much Worry.

Worry kills more people than disease. It turns our hair gray; draws wrinkles on our face, places lines of care on our brow. We worry because we have too much to do. We worry because we have nothing to do. We worry about our friends. Make our friends wonder at our impatient and irritable nature, and if we don't take the trouble to learn the great secret we will worry ourselves into the grave. ## THE VALUE OF CHARCOAL.

Few People Know How Useful It Is in Preserving Health and Beauty.

Nearly everybody knows that charcoal is the safest and most efficient disinfectant and purifier in nature, but few realize its value when taken into the human system for the same cleansing purpose.

Charcoal is a remedy that the more you take of it the better; it is not a drug at all, but simply absorbs the gases and impurities always present in the stomach and intestines and carries them out of the system.

Charcoal sweetens the breath after smoking, drinking or after eating onions and other odorous vegetables.

Charcoal effectually clears and improves the complexion, it whitens the teeth and further acts as a natural and eminently safe cathartic.

It absorbs the injurious gases which collect in the stomach and bowels; it disinfects the mouth and throat from the poison of catarrh.

All druggists sell charcoal in one form or another, but probably the best charcoal and the most for the money is in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges; they are composed of the finest powdered Willow charcoal, and other harmless antiseptic in tablet form or rather in the form of large, pleasant tasting lozenges, the charcoal being mixed with honey.

The daily use of these lozenges will soon tell in a much improved condition of the general health, better complexion, sweeter breath and purer blood, and the beauty of it is, that no possible harm can result from their continued use, but on the contrary, great benefit.

A Buffalo physician in speaking of the benefits of charcoal says: "I advise Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges to all patients suffering from gas in stomach and bowels, and to clear the complexion and purify the breath, mouth and throat; I also believe the liver is greatly benefited by the daily use of them; they cost but twenty-five cents a box at drug stores, and although in some sense a patent preparation, yet I believe I get more and better charcoal in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges than in any of the ordinary charcoal tablets."

GAMES TODAY.

Brooklyn at Pittsburgh.
Boston at Chicago.
Philadelphia at Cincinnati.
New York at St. Louis.

For only the fifth time in the history of the National league, the New York team this week took three games from the Pittsburghs at Pittsburgh. They performed the same feat in 1887, 1890, 1897 and 1899. But in all the other years the Giants were not able to win more than two games in any series here. Yesterday's defeat was due to the fact that the Pirates were outplayed, especially in the field. Two left-handers began the game, Leifield for Pittsburgh and Wiltse for New York. Wiltse stayed to the finish, but Leifield made way for Leever after the third inning. Sam did all right until the ninth inning, when three errors, two by himself, gave the Giants two runs and settled the game. It was anybody's contest until then, although the Giants were always in the lead. The lead was only one run, an obstacle that seemed easy to overcome.

The Giants started to score right off the reel. Bresnahan, the first man up, got to first on balls, went to second on Strang's out and to third on Donlin's out. McGann then hit to right field for two bases, the ball bounding over Ganley's head. Bresnahan scored, Merkle hit to left for a single, bringing McGann home. Dahlen was an easy out. In the third inning Strang sent the ball into left field for three bases and scored on a single by McGann.

When the Pirates went to bat in the fourth inning the score was 3 to 0 against them. Leach opened up by smashing the ball to McGann for a single. The ball hit Dan on the shins and bounded away. Wagner sent up a fly just back of second base. Donlin came tearing in from center field, and Strang and Gilbert stood aside to see him catch the ball. The ball fell among them, Wagner landing safely at first and Leach reaching second. Brain sent the ball to the pitcher for a sacrifice, advancing the runners. Hillebrand also dumped the ball to the pitcher, and tried to force Leach at the plate. The throw was too late. Leach scored and Wagner went to third. Ritchey hit to Gilbert, who fumbled the ball for an instant and then threw Ritchey out at first. Only for the slight fumble a double play would have been made. Wagner scored on the out and Hillebrand reached second. The latter was left, as Gibson went out to Gilbert on a fly.

The Pirates had men on bases in every succeeding inning, but sharp fielding by the Giants prevented all but one from reaching third base until the ninth inning.

In the ninth the Giants hung up two runs because of some weird playing by the Pirates. Wiltse went to first on balls. Bresnahan hit to Leever, who threw the ball past Hillebrand, Wiltse getting to third and Bresnahan to second. Wiltse kept on toward the plate and Hillebrand fired it low to Gibson, the ball shooting toward the grandstand. Leever ran to cover the plate, but Gibson tossed the ball to him a little too late. Leever dropped the ball, and Bresnahan reached third base on the drop. Strang went out to Hillebrand on a foul fly. Donlin sent a long fly to Clarke and Bresnahan trotted home. Clark, who succeeded McGann in the sixth inning—Big Dan being sent out of the game by the umpire—ended matters by rolling a grounder to Leever.

The Pirates made an attempt to do something in their half of the ninth. Clymer was sent to bat for Leever and hit to center for a single. Clarke went out to Bresnahan and Ganley sent a fly to right field. Gilbert went after it and so did Strang. They bumped together, but Gilbert caught the ball and held on to it, although he went to the ground. Leach went to first on balls, just after Clymer had stolen second. Wagner's appearance was hailed with cheers, and he smashed the ball to right for a single, scoring Clymer. Brain struck out and ended the game. Attendance, 6,949. Score:

WESTMINISTER SQUAD IS BEATEN

VILLANOVA IS EASY FOR PRINCETON, 41 TO 0

Wash.-Jeff. Makes Gains Through Light Line and Wins Game from Lang's Pupils.

THE CONTEST IS HARD FOUGHT

SPECIAL TELEGRAM FROM RICHARD R. GUY, Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, PA., Sept. 27.—The intercollegiate football season for Western Pennsylvania was opened here today, Washington and Jefferson and Westminster meeting. Westminster, light but plucky and well coached under Jack Lang, the old W. and J. tackle, put up a strong game, but was beaten 21 to 0.

The red and black scored two touchdowns in each half, but one goal was kicked. James three times was shoved through the Westminster line for touchdowns and Seamon, the left tackle, once strived the end, planting the ball across the line. There were times when both teams played poorly and then there were times when both showed flashes of mid-season championship form. Taken as a whole, the showing of W. and J. was not very encouraging.

Had Westminster a heavier line the score would undoubtedly have been lower, as it was through the forward rushes that W. and J. made its best gains, although Hupp circled the ends for large gains, showing good headwork in cutting in and dodging tacklers. Hupp's work stand out as a prominent feature. Specht, who relieved Wright at fullback in the second half jumped into the line with the ball like a real football player. His gains were substantial ones.

W. and J. was favored in the luck. Several times it fumbled, but regained, except on one occasion. In the first half the local collegians were penalized three times for holding and offside plays, once losing possession of the ball. Westminster might have stayed off another touchdown in the opening session had it elected to punt instead of trying a line buck to make two yards on the last down when the ball was near its line. The W. and J. line refused to yield and the ball was lost on downs. The second touchdown was soon forthcoming.

Twice during the game Westminster had opportunities to get in long runs and possibly scoring in the open field. In both instances Doyle, the left tackle, who is not favored with Mercury feet, had the ball and was hauled down. Doyle's first chance came in the first half when he secured the ball on the Westminster 10-yard line on a fumble. He got away to a clear field, but after going 15 yards he was hauled down from behind. In the second half he was given the ball for a dash into the line. He got away from the crowd, but Tanner got him in the open field. Capt. Locke was the bright star for Westminster, he having the ball on most all the punting he was not beaten by Wright. M. Scott, the Westminster quarterback, directed the plays well and rapidly. McFarland, the W. and J. quarterback, consumed much time by his slow and deliberate calling of signals.

James made the first touchdown eight minutes after the kick-off. Wright missed goal. Seamon was sent through the line for the second after 12 minutes of playing. W. and J. worked nine minutes in the second half for the third touchdown and the fourth was made with but one-half minute of play.

The W. and J. teams will leave tomorrow night for Princeton, where will play Saturday. Friday afternoon it will practice with Pitt on Franklin field. The line-up for today's game:

| W. & J.—21. | | Westminster—6. |

Yale's Squad Increased.

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Sept. 27.—(Special)—Yale's football squad was augmented today to 85 men and drafts on the incoming class will probably swell it to 70 men tomorrow afternoon. For the first time this season a third and fourth eleven could be formed. That much is expected from Capt. Shevlin this year is the work of his specialty is evident from the amount of time and drill spent today on running back the ball on kick-offs. Shevlin was allowed to make every catch and protective formations quickly developed to aid him in running back the ball.

FINAL MEETING OF THE LEAGUE

Bowlers Will Gather Here Monday to Set the Ball Rolling for the Season.

GOSSIP ABOUT THE CLUBS

The final meeting of the Allegheny league will be held on the Federal alleys Sunday night, at which all business for the coming season will be taken up. It is important that all teams of the different sections have their officers and members signed and be list ready to hand in. All dues must be paid to the treasurer. At the meeting the executive committee will be appointed, also a schedule committee. There will also be a committee appointed to inspect all alleys which are to be used by the different teams of the Allegheny County league.

The Millvale Independent team of the Allegheny section of the County league held a meeting last night and elected the following officers for the coming season: Dan Houlihan, captain; Dr. Chiers, secretary and treasurer. It seems the above team is composed of most all the prominent physicians in the locality, and should accident or sickness befall any of the bowlers they will receive the best professional services that the medical fraternity can offer.

There will be an exciting and interesting match on the Federal alleys tonight between the Federal and Cecelia teams of the Allegheny section. Both teams are considerably strengthened this year and there should be some interesting scores chalked up.

The St. Joseph Casino team would like to arrange a game with some strong team for Friday night. Answer in Friday morning's Gazette, or call up 2926 Court and ask for advertising office between 1 and 2 o'clock today.

On the Wilkinsburg Casino alleys tonight the Royals, champions of the Allegheny County Duckpin league, will return matches of duckpins with the Wilkinsburg team and endeavor to recover the laurels they lost to their country cousins on the Wylie avenue alleys last week.

The Dimmick Duckpin league has been organized with 12 strong clubs. The season will begin October 1. There will be between 30 and 40 games to be rolled on the alleys for The Wylie avenue alleys are to be the home of the league.

The Barbers' league has almost completed its teams for the coming season. There will be eight clubs and the league will be a big success from the start and many a game will be won by a close shave. The Wylie avenue alleys will be the home of the league and The Gazette has been adopted as the official organ.

Manager Lecompte of the Wylie avenue alleys is deserving of great credit for his untiring efforts in getting the above leagues organized.

PARKERSBURG HAS A REVELATION

Southern Prejudice Gets New and Pleasing View of the Club Woman.

WORK OF THE FEDERATION

SPECIAL TELEGRAM FROM ANNA R. STRATTON, Staff Correspondent.

PARKERSBURG, W. VA., Sept. 27.—The color question, threshed out and well-nigh killed in other states, is a very live issue in the pathway of the West Virginia Federation of Women's clubs. It is the great obstacle hampering its progress.

Parkersburg was startled this afternoon by the arrival of several hundred club women from Wheeling, Huntington, Ronceverte, Sistersville, Point Pleasant and other West Virginia towns for the second annual meeting of the State Federation of Women's clubs, which opened tonight. The majority of the women of this state are very conservative and typical of the entire south—women who can see nothing, yet in the club idea but a letting down of the flood gates for the admission of the negro race to social equality, and another means of attaining woman's suffrage.

But Parkersburg this week is receiving an object lesson of another sort in the presence of 500 well-dressed, charming and well-informed women who have met to discuss the improvement of the educational system, beautifying of homes and towns, how to cook, and the value of great forest reserves. The meeting of the federation opened tonight in the First Methodist Episcopal church, with a reception given by the Woman's Literary club of Parkersburg. The lecture room of the church was brilliantly decorated in crimson and gold, great masses of goldenrod, ferns and dahlias being combined.

Features of Its Work.

Manual training, domestic science and kindergartens in the public school system are to be features of the aggressive work of the federation this year. The kindergarten was introduced last year into the public schools of Parkersburg by the Woman's Literary club, and next year it is expected its support will be taken over by the board of education.

The federation was organized a year and a half ago with 15 clubs. This year it has 16 with three others ready to become members. Education will be made a living issue, a great part of the women's clubs advocating disfranchisement in all elections of those who can neither read nor write.

"This is one of the most important subjects which can come before us," said Mrs. Guy R. C. Allen of Wheeling, the president of the state federation today. "The degree of illiteracy in West Virginia is frightful."

Mrs. Allen is a strong candidate for reelection, many of the club women wanting to give her another year, in which to push her plans for effective federation work. She is a firm advocate of the traveling library system, the Wheeling clubs having sent out 11 libraries last year, under her direction. This year she hopes to make the number 20, and to further the scheme has brought to the federation meeting a sample case containing 30 books.

Libraries Are Popular.

The first library was sent to a mining settlement in Fayette county, and the eagerness with which the books were received was shown by the dog-eared covers and finger-marked pages.

The Village Improvement society, of Parkersburg, has taken up the work of planting flowers and keeping the grass cut on vacant lots until they are built upon or occupied in some other manner. As an evidence of its enterprise there are two lots in the heart of the town where beds of canna are brilliantly blooming, while the huge-leafed culladium is grown profusely. It is an immense improvement over the unsightly vacant lots.

ANNIVERSARY OF ORDINATION.

The Rt. Rev. Father Tobin Completes 43 Years in Priesthood.

Yesterday was the forty-third anniversary of the ordination into the priesthood of the Rt. Rev. Francis L. Tobin, vicar general of the Pittsburgh diocese of the Roman Catholic church, irremovable rector of St. Mary's church and titular prothonotary apostolic.

In accord with the wishes of Father Tobin, there was no celebration of the event, although he was in receipt of innumerable messages of congratulation. Monsignor Tobin is in his sixty-fifth year and was born in Dublin, Ireland. He was ordained on September 27, 1862.

The Rev. J. W. Zehringer of the Gettysburg classis was admitted into the local classis, and his call to the New Kensington church was affirmed. The Rev. D. I. Schaeffer of Sugar Creek church applied for a dissolution of his pastoral relations. He has accepted membership in the Clarion classis.

Get Word of Missing Man.

The family of Will Schlumpf, who disappeared from his home in Sewickley on Monday, has been notified by telegraph that Schlumpf was lying ill in a hospital at Massillon, O. Relatives left last night to bring him home. Schlumpf's disappearance had been mysterious and searching parties were hunting him yesterday afternoon until the telegram arrived. When last heard from Schlumpf was going to the office of John Parkins, Jr., a Sewickley florist, for whom he worked.

About forty general agents of the Reliance Life Insurance Company of Pittsburgh, from all parts of the country, arrived yesterday (Wednesday) as guests of the company, to remain until Saturday evening. The gathering is in the nature of a convention, interspersed with various forms of entertainment; a sort of jubilee to mark the close of a very successful year, of which the month of September recorded the largest volume of business in the company's history.

The convention is in the nature of a reward, the company having set a certain amount of business to be written in order to qualify, and the home officials are very much gratified that so many of their agents attained the mark. Today will be given over almost entirely to amusement, the following program having been arranged for today:

SOCIETY

EXCEEDINGLY beautiful in all its appointments was the wedding of Miss Margaretta Johnston and Dr. John De Vinne Shugley, which took place at 8 o'clock last evening, at the home of the bride's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Norwood Johnston, in Rebecca street, East End. The bride, given away by her father, John T. Johnston, was attended by a niece, Miss Marguerite Hall, as maid of honor, and by two smaller nieces, Miss Louise Johnston and Miss Doris Hall, as flower girls. The bridal procession also included the little ribbon bearers, Miss Virginia Hall and Master Norwood Johnston; Dr. S. S. Simpson, the best man, and Walter McCloy and Dr. Robert Milligan, ushers. Miss Laurena Linton of Brownsville, an intimate friend of the bride, played the wedding march as the bridal party entered the drawing room, where they were met by the Rev. Dr. Robert M. Russell, pastor of the Sixth United Presbyterian church, who performed the ceremony.

The bride wore an exquisitely dainty gown of white radium cloth and real lace. The sleeves were puffed to the elbow, where a graceful fall of lace finished them. The material was shirred into girdle effect at the waist line and to the end of the train fell the long tulle veil. The bridal bouquet was a shower of white roses and lilies of the valley. The maid of honor appeared in white chiffon cloth, hung over pink, and carried pink roses of the Killarney variety. All the smaller attendants were in white with touches of blue and pink, the flower maidens in frocks of organdie, carrying baskets of lilies of the valley and white ribbons.

The appointments were of unusual beauty. The bridal party stood under a very tall, widely-drooping palm, surrounded by smaller plants, which occupied the entire end of the room, while the mantel and fireplace were almost hidden under masses of greens from which sprung great clusters of the delicately-shaded Killarney roses. A drapery of the roses hung from a tiny shelf above the mantel, and smilax draped the doors and windows in profusion. In the library adjoining American beauties contrasted with the greens, huge bunches of the blooms filling a space in the center of the mantel and also banking the fireplace, while in the dining room beyond were Kaiserine roses, in a massive centerpiece on the table and on the buffet. The chandelier decorations were particularly effective, asparagus springeril falling in the form of a star from the top of the parlor chandelier and the same arrangement being used with asparagus plumosa in the library. From the midst of tall waving palms hiding the fireplace and screening the musicians in the hall rose a great red electric bulb. Each room on the second floor was done in one color, pink asters, yellow daisies, blue larkspur and white asters being the flowers used. After the reception and wedding supper, Dr. and Mrs. Shugley began their wedding trip and will be at home on days after November 1, in North Highland avenue.

Harmer-McCracken.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Harmer, in South Fairmont avenue, was the scene of an attractive little wedding last evening, when their daughter, Miss Anna Charlotte Harmer, became the bride of Charles H. McCracken, Jr. A feature of the wedding was the arrangement of the floral decorations, in which asparagus plumosa was the principal article used. As a background for the bridal party the mantel in the parlor was covered with the trailing feathery vine, and at each side of the fireplace stood two large jardinieres filled with the same. The chandeliers were draped in sheaves of pink blossoms and pink tulle. The Rev. Dr. Frank N. Sneed, pastor of the East Liberty Presbyterian church, performed the ceremony at 8 o'clock, the bridal party including the maid of honor, Miss Clarissa Norton McCracken; the bridesmaid, Miss Ethelwyn MacMichael; the ribbon-bearers, little Miss Lois Muller and Miss Marjory Harmer, and the best man and usher, Benjamin Martin and Edward Griffiths. The bride wore a gown of messaline satin and lace, with a tulle veil, and carried a cluster of lilies of the valley in shower effect. Both Miss McCracken and Miss MacMichael had gowns of pink Banzai silk trimmed with white lace, with the edges embroidered in pink. Their flowers were white asters. Simple frocks of white batiste were worn by the little ribbon-bearers. Mrs. Harmer, in gray crepe de Paris, received with the bridal couple following the ceremony. After their wedding journey Mr. and Mrs. McCracken will be at home in Mellwood street, where they have announced days at home after November 15.

Kennedy-George.

Among the out-of-town guests at the wedding of Miss Elizabeth Kennedy and Robert S. George yesterday at noon were Mrs. Lewis George of Blairsville and Mrs. W. H. Barker of Philadelphia. The wedding took place at the home of Mrs. T. H. Ewing in South Highland avenue, with the Rev. William L. Barrett of the Blairsville Presbyterian church as officiant. Miss Cora E. Sorp was the bride's only attendant and Dr. E. M. Bushnell of Coral, Pa., served as best man, while the wedding march was played by Miss Clara Ewing. The bride was attired in white point d'esprit and carried a shower boquet of bride's roses. A gown of white mull was worn by Miss Sorp, who carried yellow roses. After the wedding breakfast, which followed the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. George left for their home in Coral, where the bridegroom is connected with the Wharton coke works. He is a brother of Harry L. George, assistant to J. B. Cunningham, United States bank examiner.

CARNEGIE LOAN ROOMS WILL OPEN ON MONDAY

That Department of Library Has Been Closed Since June—Fiction Demand Not Heavy.

The loan department of the Carnegie library will reopen on October 2. That department has been closed since last June. At first it was expected that it could open again on September 1, but the contractors have been so slow with the work that the room will not be completed even in October. Nevertheless, the loan department will reopen, even though unfinished. All the other departments of the library have been open right along, but many persons thought the reference rooms were closed, merely because the museum was not accessible to visitors.

Miss Jessie Welles, superintendent of the circulating department, said yesterday that on Monday patrons can get books just as they did before the department shut down. Miss Welles said that when the department closed in June 8,000 books were loaned for summer use. Those who got the books were allowed to retain them until October 2, and they are advised to now return them promptly. A library card entitles the holder to one book of fiction at a time, but for vacation use six books of fiction were allowed. It was thought this would cause a jump in the fiction percentage, but the people who carried away so many books last June failed to take advantage of the unusual fiction privilege, showing that library patrons practice serious reading more than was supposed.

Books will be loaned on October 2, but borrowers who have books to return are advised to bring them back a few days earlier, as on the opening day there will be a great crowd and the person who has taken the precaution to return borrowed books earlier will receive prompt service. Books can be returned this week every day from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m., in the small room at the right of the entrance.

THE PIANOLA
was made so every one could use the Piano

Simplicity and artistic efficiency were the two points aimed at in the Pianola's construction. The successful combination of these two qualities is the secret of the Pianola's present popularity.

When used, its perfect reproduction of the most skillful and artistic hand-playing has commended it to the musicians and musical people, while its easy operation, well within every child's understanding, makes it practical to the music-loving but unskillful public.

The enormous increase in the number of Pianolas sold in all parts of the world indicates that the period when every piano will be accompanied by one of these wonderful instruments is not far distant.

AGED DAN CUPID AS THEIR GUEST

Returns to Ingram Couple for the Celebration of Their 50th Wedding Anniversary.

HAPPY DAYS IN PAN HANS LIFE

Oh, who is this who wanders back
The pathway of the heart,
With orange blossoms twined about
His staff—a golden dart?

'Tis Cupid, fifty years of age—
His back a bended bow.
Dan Cupid, once a little page—
With hair as white as snow.

God bless them as they wander back
The pathway of the heart,
With orange blossoms on the tip
Of every golden dart.

Dan Cupid, fifty summers old,
With hair as white as snow;
And she, the bride, with him again,
For life and death, and joy and pain—
God bless them as they go.

—Pan-Han.

"Pan-Han," the author of the above poem, is a respected resident of Ingram. In the ordinary walks of life he is known as J. Bryant Miller. Mr. Miller and his wife yesterday celebrated the 50th anniversary of their marriage. Only members of the family were present. A feature of the celebration was the reading of the poem, which was Mr. Miller's contribution for the occasion. "Pan-Han" has for a long time been contributing to the columns of a Chartiers valley newspaper. During the last presidential campaign he wrote a poem, "Ready for Action." It was sent to President Roosevelt and brought the following reply:

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Sept. 29, 1904.
My dear sir—Your letter of the 13th inst. has been received, and the president takes pleasure in sending you herewith his autograph. Thanking you cordially in the president's behalf for your friendly sentiments, I am, very truly yours,
WILLIAM LOEB, JR.,
Secretary to the President.

J. Bryant Miller was born in Mt. Vernon, O., September 25, 1834. He was 21 years of age when he married Sara D. Anderson of Carlisle, Pa. His grandfather, James Gilman Bryant, was a cousin of William Cullen Bryant, the poet and journalist. Mr. Miller was for 30 years a sign and decorative painter, but for 12 years has lived a retired life in Ingram, where he has long been designated the "Poet Laureate of the Chartiers Valley."

Mr. and Mrs. Miller have seven sons and daughters living. Three sons are dead. Among those who attended the wedding celebration yesterday were: Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Miller and son, Jersey City, N. J.; Mrs. William Ango and daughter, Dixon, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. J. Morgan Stewart, Sharon; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Logan and children, Avalon. The other children of Mr. and Mrs. Miller are Harry A. and Errol B. Miller and Mrs. Anna G., a widow. Other relatives present were two sisters, Mrs. Henry Mackey and Miss E. V. Miller, Newark, O.; a brother, Philip D. Miller, Newark; a niece, Mrs. Anna B. Linn, Carthage, Mo., and a nephew, Charles W. Kerr of Washington, D. C.

THEATERS NEXT WEEK.

Most Interesting Time Is Promised in Local Playhouses—Premier Productions and Old Favorites.

The seat sale for the forthcoming engagement of the great Drury Lane spectacle, "Humpty Dumpty," will begin this morning at the Nixon theater, where this dazzling production will be seen for two weeks, beginning next Monday night. For the past four years Klaw & Erlanger have shown their Drury Lane spectacles in this city with pronounced success, and in this, the latest importation, we are promised a company which includes some 350 comedians, singers, dancers, acrobats and pantomimists. The company is the same which characterized the original American reproduction of "Humpty Dumpty" all last season at the New Amsterdam theater, New York. Heretofore the schedule of prices for all the Drury Lane spectacles presented in this city has been from 50 cents to 2.00. In the present instance, $1.50 will be the price of the best seats in the house.

"The Girl of the Golden West" company arrived in Pittsburgh last evening, accompanied by Mr. David Belasco, who is the author of the new play, and under whose direction the premier production will be had on Tuesday evening next at the Belasco theater. Miss Blanche Bates is, of course, the star and it was for her that Mr. Belasco wrote the play. He has surrounded her, however, with a company of high dramatic ability. Mr. Robert Hilliard will play the lead opposite to Miss Bates, who will appear in the title role. There are 23 people in the cast, and it is a matter of considerable interest that in that number there is only one woman other than Miss Bates—Miss Harriet Stirling. In the cast are Mr. Frank Keenan, John W. Cope, James Kirkwood, Thomas J. McGrane, Horace James, Fred Maxwell, Richard Hoyer, Clifford Hipple, T. Hayes Hunter, Mr. Benrimo, J. Al. Sawtelle, Robert Deshon, Nowell Sherman, Ed. A. Tester, A. M. Beattie, Fred Sidney, William Wild, Ira M. Flick, H. L. Wilson and Ignazio Biondi.

"Checkers," one of the emphatic hits of this and last season, will be seen at the Alvin theater all next week. This is one of the best plays seen on the stage in a long time. It is clean and free from the suggestive. It is fit for the young and old and middle-aged alike. Hans Robert plays the title role with an easy, natural grace and force at once charming and telling. Dave Braham, Jr., the son of the well-known composer, gives a sketch of a race track tout to the life. Katherine Mulkins as Pert, the sweet and pretty sweetheart of Checkers, is delicious. Lydia Dickson as Cynthy, the maid of all work, is a funny creation and so, too, is the unctuous Uncle Jerry of Charles Willard.

Robert Fitzsimmons, winner of 365 battles in the roped arena, is the stellar offering at the Empire theater next week, commencing Monday evening, October 2. Fitzsimmons is appearing in his comedy drama success, "A Fight for Love." The play is by Hal Reid and is said to be the best of his many offerings. In the first act Fitzsimmons makes a horseshoe in full view of the audience; in the second, he is seen in a marvelous bag punching exhibition, and in the final act boxes three fast rounds with Mike Tobin.

Workmen are putting the finishing touches to the beautiful new entrance to the Grand, and by Monday that house will be ready to open with a big bill of vaudeville novelties, headed by the Great Lafayette, the Nicholls Sisters, Whistling Tom Brown and a dozen other fine acts.

At the Gayety for the week, commencing next Monday, the famous Rentz Santley Company will be the attraction. The offering this season is decidedly up-to-date, with many novel and interesting features. The vaudeville contingent includes such well-known artists as Carr & Jordan, Fred Barth, Ethel Claus and Myrtle Montez, Lew Welsh and our European importation, Cornalla & Eddy, comedy acrobatic juggling act; Nina Bertolini and Georgie Putnam.

One of the best burlesque shows that comes to Pittsburgh is the Cherry Blossoms, which will be at the Academy of Music next week. This company has always been among the leaders, and this year is no exception. The company is composed of some really clever people, among whom are John H. Perry, Carlisle & Perry, Harry Ward, the Manhasset Comedy Four and Eddie and Josie Evans.

Brings Brainard from Wyoming.

Charles Brainard, aged 20, who was arrested in Wyoming a week ago, was brought to this city yesterday by Deputy United States Marshal Frank A. Haskel and committed to jail, on a charge of embezzlement of $300 from a postoffice in Clearfield county, August 1903. Part of the sum was returned. A balance of $198 is still due. Brainard was going to the University of Nebraska, and thought the debt was paid.

GRAND JURY INDICTS 29 INSURANCE AGENTS

Men Are Charged With Violating the Valentine Anti-Trust Law of Ohio—Agents Will Fight.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]
ASHTABULA, O., Sept. 27.—Today at Jefferson the Ashtabula county grand jury returned indictments against 29 fire insurance agents, charged with violating the Valentine anti-trust law. They had formed an organization known as the Ashtabula County Underwriters' association, which it is alleged has been the means of destroying all competition in the business. It is probably the first case of its kind every investigated in Ohio.

Many of those indicted are among the county's most influential men. They represent 67 different fire insurance companies. In accordance with the rules of their organization it seems that every policy written had to be sent to a stamping agent at Ashtabula for his approval, which was given in case the rates had not been cut. The action against the agents was begun last week by Prosecuting Attorney C. L. Taylor.

The insurance men have secured good legal talent and say they will carry the case to the supreme court if necessary. Those indicted today were: Albert Ross, Isaac Hewit, Fred Williams, Henry Bailey, Sanford Rice, Raymond Castle, Charles Booth, Frank Mooreee, Alfred Crittenden, George Travers, Danville Hayward, Theodore Gellog, Albert Pitcher, Eli Harris, Frank Wetmore, Alba Martin, Edwin Knapp, James Reed, Benjamin Cushing, Seymour Frayer, Edwin Dorman, Arthur Benjamin, Roy Smith, Sina Goddard and William Ritter.

CONTROL IS SECURED OF EAST LIVERPOOL LINES

Trolley Syndicate Will Now Develop Important Link in System from Pittsburgh to Wheeling.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]
EAST LIVERPOOL, O., Sept. 27.—The syndicate which has been at work here for several months securing control of local street railways, has succeeded in getting ordinances through the councils of both this city and Wellsville, the last of them being passed last night in East Liverpool. All is now in readiness for rebuilding the old East Liverpool-Wellsville line, making of it an up-to-date, double track interurban railway which, with extensions to be built, will make it one of the most important links in a trolley chain from Pittsburgh to Wheeling.

The Hon. W. Caryl Ely of Buffalo, president of the American Street Railway association, is looking after the financiering of the enterprise, and Van Horn Ely, also of Buffalo, is president of the new company, which will absorb the East Liverpool Railway Company, its branches, the East Liverpool & Rock Springs line to Chester, W. Va., and the pleasure resort known as Rock Springs park. Work on the promised improvements will begin at once.

NO LACK OF ENTERPRISE.

Sane Connellsville Citizens Seeking Honest Dollar by Reporting an Heirless Estate.

CONNELLSVILLE, PA., Sept. 27.—(Special.)—As no one has yet been able to find a will of Mrs. Bertha R. Smith, the wealthy owner of the Smith house, who died suddenly last week, the estate will likely revert to the state, she having no children or near relatives. This has caused a rush of local citizens to Harrisburg to notify the state officials of her death.

An act of assembly provides that the first person who notifies the auditor general of such a death receives from 3 to 5 per cent of the estate. The estate of Mrs. Smith is valued at $150,000. The percentage, therefore, would be something over $5,000.

NO PEACE UNLESS HIS PEOPLE GET THEIR DUE

John Mitchell So Declares Himself as He Journeys Toward the Soft Coal Regions to Organize.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]
POTTSVILLE, Sept. 27.—President John Mitchell of the United Mine Workers stopped in Pottsville today on his way to the soft coal region, and warmly greeted a number of convalescent miner patients at the Pottsville hospital. Of all the praises showered upon him in his long itinerary, he esteemed the tribute paid him at Hecksherville, where Father William Motley, in addressing a mass meeting of miners, referred to him as an "angel of children and apostle of the workingmen." In an interview President Mitchell said:

"Unless the workingmen fully organize there may be trouble—serious trouble. I am for peace and industrial tranquility. We want no strike, boycott or blacklist. I want to establish a relationship between employer and employed which will result in their sitting down as peaceable and reasonable men to adjust their differences. While I am for peace, it must be peace made by both sides of equal contracting powers. There will be no peace unless it gives to my people their share of the profits they earn."

ENGINEER KILLED IN MINE.

ALTOONA, PA., Sept. 27.—(Special.)—While inspecting a coal mine at Belsena, Clearfield county, Thomas J. # Physicians Recommend Castoria

CASTORIA has met with pronounced favor on the part of physicians, pharmaceutical societies and medical authorities. It is used by physicians with results most gratifying. The extended use of Castoria is unquestionably the result of three facts: First—The indisputable evidence that it is harmless: Second—That it not only allays stomach pains and quiets the nerves, but assimilates the food: Third—It is an agreeable and perfect substitute for Castor Oil. It is absolutely safe. It does not contain any Opium, Morphine, or other narcotic and does not stupefy. It is unlike Soothing Syrups, Bateman's Drops, Godfrey's Cordial, etc. This is a good deal for a Medical Journal to say. Our duty, however, is to expose danger and record the means of advancing health. The day for poisoning innocent children through greed or ignorance ought to end. To our knowledge, Castoria is a remedy which produces composure and health, by regulating the system—not by stupefying it—and our readers are entitled to the information.—Hall's Journal of Health.

Letters from Prominent Physicians Addressed to Charles H. Fletcher.

Dr. B. Halstead Scott, of Chicago, Ills., says: "I have prescribed your Castoria often for infants during my practice, and find it very satisfactory."

Dr. William Belmont, of Cleveland, Ohio, says: "Your Castoria stands first in its class. In my thirty years of practice I can say I never have found anything that so filled the place."

Dr. J. H. Taft, of Brooklyn, N. Y., says: "I have used your Castoria and found it an excellent remedy in my household and private practice for many years. The formula is excellent."

Dr. Wm. L. Bosserman, of Buffalo, N. Y., says: "I am pleased to spare a good word for your Castoria. I think so highly of it that I not only recommend it to others, but have used it in my own family."

Dr. R. J. Hamlen, of Detroit, Mich., says: "I prescribe your Castoria extensively, as I have never found anything to equal it for children's troubles. I am aware that there are imitations in the field, but I always see that my patients get Fletcher's."

Dr. Wm. I. McCann, of Omaha, Neb., says: "As the father of thirteen children I certainly know something about your great medicine, and aside from my own family experience I have in my years of practice found Castoria a popular and efficient remedy in almost every home."

Dr. J. R. Clausen, of Philadelphia, Pa., says: "The name that your Castoria has made for itself in the term of thousands of homes blessed by the presence of children, scarcely needs to be supplemented by the endorsement of the medical profession, but I, for one, most heartily endorse it and believe it an excellent remedy."

Dr. Channing H. Cook, of St. Louis, Mo., says: "I have used your Castoria for several years past in my own family and have always found it thoroughly efficient and never objected to by children, which is a great consideration in view of the fact that most medicines of this character are obnoxious and therefore difficult of administration. As a laxative, I consider it the peer of anything that I ever prescribed."

Dr. R. M. Ward, of Kansas City, Mo., says: "Physicians generally do not prescribe proprietary preparations, but in the case of Castoria my experience, like that of many other physicians, has taught me to make an exception. I prescribe your Castoria in my practice because I have found it to be a thoroughly reliable remedy for children's complaints. Any physician who has reared a family, as I have, will join me in heartiest recommendation of Castoria."

NORTH NEGLEY IS BOOM DISTRICT

Score of Fine Houses Are Going Up Along With Extensive Street Improvements.

LATEST NEWS OF BUILDING

The boom in the North Negley avenue district is keeping up at a rate that makes most other sections of the East End seem quiet. Since T. N. Barnsdall bought the old McKelvey homestead, including a square and a half of property, and made the place over into one of the most beautiful homes in Pittsburgh, activity in the neighborhood has increased steadily and now there are nearly a score of first-class houses under way or shortly to be started within two squares. Joseph G. Vilsack has let the contract for the $25,000 residence which he will build on the northwest corner of North Negley avenue and Bryant street, one square from the entrance to Highland park. Across Bryant street facing on the west side of North Negley avenue, M. B. Hargreave, the tobacco merchant, has awarded the contract for a $16,000 residence which is just started. In Hampton street, opposite the Barnsdall mansion, Capt. Wood of the Kelly-Wood Real Estate Company is completing a $14,000 residence, and next to it S. M. Bauersmith is building a $13,000 home. At the corner of Hampton street and Portland avenue Dr. C. L. Kerseryhas recently completed four reception hall brick houses, costing $9,500 each, and will shortly build four more similar houses on adjoining frontage. Just above these houses on the west side of Portland avenue D. M. Fair, the contractor, has purchased 200 feet of frontage and will build six houses to cost $10,000 each. On the east side of North Negley avenue, opposite the Barnsdall property, D. W. Pershing has under roof four center hall houses that will cost him at least $20,000 each. Two similar residences are scheduled for early building in North Negley avenue near Bryant street, and further down, below Hampton street, there are three $15,000 houses now being erected.

Making Terrace in Negley Avenue.

This week W. J. Black has a force of 20 teams making a five-foot terrace around the square bounded by North Negley avenue, Bryant street, Hampton street and Portland avenue, which he bought eight years ago. Over 40,000 cubic yards of loam are being hauled on to the property to afford the best kind of soil for shrubbery, etc. This terrace will bring the frontage up to a point higher than North Highland or Heberton avenues and will afford a magnificent view to the north and west. The property has lately been plotted, the Negley avenue lots being 50 feet wide with a 5-foot building line, and the Portland avenue lots 25 feet wide with a 25-foot building line. On Monday the contractors started to macadamize Portland avenue, which was graded some time ago. Hampton street below Negley avenue is also being paved to Fiks hollow. North Negley avenue from Hampton street north to Highland park is 65 feet wide and with the improvements now assured will be as fine a residence thoroughfare as can be found in the Nineteenth ward. A half dozen houses to cost not less than $10,000 each are scheduled for building on the King frontage on the west side of North Negley avenue through which Cordelia street, a macadamized thoroughfare, runs. Last year it was freely predicted that the North Negley district would be quite as popular as the North Highland neighborhood in a short time, and from present indications it looks as though this prophecy would come true.

More Plans Being Refigured.

Architects MacClure & Spahr are revising plans and will be ready for bids soon on the six-story brick and steel building which the Excelsior Express and Standard Cab Company will erect in Liberty avenue, near the Union station, at an estimated cost of $125,000.

Architects Clipper & Moffitt are taking bids on revised plans for the West End Methodist Episcopal church to be built at McKeesport at an approximate cost of $20,000.

The Auditor Amusement Company, lately organized by North Side capitalists, has authorized Architect C. G. Mentel to prepare plans for a large brick auditorium and amusement hall which will cost about $35,000. The proposed location for the building is in Sandusky street.

Estimates are being taken on two more church buildings, the Baptist church in Wallace avenue, Wilkinsburg, which was designed by Architect J. C. Fulton of Uniontown, and the Trinity African Episcopal church in Center avenue, which will cost about $15,000.

Architect William Griesser has completed plans for the brewery which the Mutual Union Brewing Company propose to build at Aliquippa.

Sun Parlors for the Iroquois.

Dwellers in the Iroquois apartments in Forbes street, Oakland, will have the added luxury of sun parlors this winter. James J. Flannery, the owner, has nearly completed six sun porches 100 feet long and eight feet wide in the rear of the big apartment building. These are of steel and concrete construction and will be enclosed with glass, making them a great addition to the comfort and convenience of the apartments. This improvement, with the installation of a new power plant, has cost over $37,000.

The sale is reported of 1402-1410 Clark street and 25-29 Townsend street, for $40,000. The property belonged to S. Lindner of New York, and is said to have been sold through the agency of Samuel Levy to New York investors. It measures 100 feet in Clark street and 48 feet in Townsend street and is to be improved with a four-story brick business block.

Councilman Henry Semmelrock has transferred to John P. Semmelrock a one-half interest in 60x120 feet on the south side of Carson street, near Seventeenth street, Twenty-sixth ward, for $13,500. He has also received title from John F. # THE LAXATIVE OF KNOWN QUALITY

There are two classes of remedies: those of known quality and which are permanently beneficial in effect, acting gently, in harmony with nature, when nature needs assistance; and another class, composed of preparations of unknown, uncertain and inferior character, acting temporarily, but injuriously, as a result of forcing the natural functions unnecessarily. One of the most exceptional of the remedies of known quality and excellence is the ever pleasant Syrup of Figs, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., which represents the active principles of plants, known to act most beneficially, in a pleasant syrup, in which the wholesome Californian blue figs are used to contribute their rich, yet delicate, fruity flavor. It is the remedy of all remedies to sweeten and refresh and cleanse the system gently and naturally, and to assist one in overcoming constipation and the many ills resulting therefrom. Its active principles and quality are known to physicians generally, and the remedy has therefore met with their approval, as well as with the favor of many millions of well informed persons who know of their own personal knowledge and from actual experience that it is a most excellent laxative remedy. We do not claim that it will cure all manner of ills, but recommend it for what it really represents, a laxative remedy of known quality and excellence, containing nothing of an objectionable or injurious character.

There are two classes of purchasers; those who are informed as to the quality of what they buy and the reasons for the excellence of articles of exceptional merit, and who do not lack courage to go elsewhere when a dealer offers an imitation of any well known article; but, unfortunately, there are some people who do not know, and who allow themselves to be imposed upon. They cannot expect its beneficial effects if they do not get the genuine remedy.

To the credit of the druggists of the United States be it said that nearly all of them value their reputation for professional integrity and the good will of their customers too highly to offer imitations of the

Dizzy Spells

That dizzy spell is an important message from the heart—a plea for help. If this message receives no attention others come: shortness of breath, palpitation, weak or fainting spells, smothering or choking sensations, pains around the heart, in side or shoulders, and so on, until it receives the necessary help, or is compelled to give up—stop. You may furnish this aid with

Every day we read of sudden deaths from heart disease, yet it is a fact that the heart had been pleading for help, and gave up the struggle only when it had exhausted the last spark of vitality.

"I was taken down with heart trouble and dropsy, and my family doctor said there was no chance for me. I sat up three months to keep from smothering. A trial bottle of Dr. Miles' Heart Cure helped me, and I got 5 bottles, which entirely cured me."

SUBWAY TAVERN CLOSES.

Proprietor of the Saloon Blessed by Bishop Potter Says It Has Been Losing Venture.

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—The Subway Tavern, the saloon which was opened with prayer by Bishop Potter a year ago, was closed today. The owner locked the doors, saying that the temperance saloon had not been a paying investment.

The Subway Tavern ended its existence as a temperance experiment on the first of the present month, and has since been running as an ordinary drink dispensary. At the opening Bishop Potter made a speech in which he said that the Subway Tavern might become the first in a similar chain of poor man's clubs, which could be very beneficial to society.

WISE INVESTORS AND HOME-BUYERS Always prefer improved realty.

BECAUSE the values are established.

BECAUSE the improvements are a fact and not mere conjecture.

BECAUSE the neighborhood is known—not a matter of what it might be.

BECAUSE, if you have to sell, you can, at least, get for it what you paid.

If you are in the market buy improved realty. That's our specialty.

STOCK SALES ARE SMALL, BUT LIST HOLDS STEADY

Dealings in New York Total Less Than for Months Past—Bears Are Checkmated—Local Market Featureless.

The sales of stocks on the New York stock exchange yesterday fell to a smaller total than on any day for many weeks past. The small compass of the fluctuations was an even more striking illustration of the narrowness of the market. At different times during the day the trading fell into absolute stagnation. There was ample demand, however, to absorb any selling pressure, but as quickly as the downward tendency was arrested or small gains established the buying died out completely.

The action of the market suggested strongly the purpose of operators to hold the list steady without attempting any notable advance in prices. This policy is in harmony with the views attributed to powerful banking authorities that the time is inopportune for any extensive borrowing of funds to embark in speculation, while at the same time the general conditions in the country are so strong as to offer no ground for a yielding of the price level.

The presence of supporting orders effectually intimidated the bear element and kept values free from attack on that account. The day was almost entirely free from any incident of importance from a stock market point of view. The same factors which have been in operation since the beginning of the week operated to deplete still further the cash reserves of the banks, and to point to a weak bank return in the statement of the coming Saturday. The sub-treasury statement showed that the absorption by that institution since the last bank statement had expanded to $4,742,000. The market for foreign exchange was decidedly strong through the morning, and the supply of bills against grain and cotton shipments was called scanty.

In the money markets of the world interest centered on the probable action of the Bank of England toward its discount rate today. The weight of opinion points to an advance which it is believed in some quarters will amount to a full 1 per cent. An explanation of the apparent equanimity with which the English bank officials view the withdrawal of gold from the London market in face of unusually low percentage of its reserves to liabilities is found in the fact that the bank holds $19,000,000 of gold which does not figure in its reserve because "earmarked" for the Indian government, but which it is expected will come into the bank's reserve ultimately. This fact and the strength of sterling in New York yesterday may influence the action of the governors on the discount rate at today's meeting.

There were persistent reports that large additional amounts of gold had been secured in London for New York in spite of the wide advance in the sterling exchange rate since the last engagements were made. The tone of the money market continued firm, but there was no notable change in quoted rates either for call or time loans.

The London stock market derived some benefit from the published terms of the Anglo-Japanese treaty and London bought moderately in the New York stock market. The strength which showed yesterday was in about the same quarters as during an advancing tendency for some time past. The Pacifics, Reading, Louisville & Nashville and Ontario & Western were conspicuous, the last named on rumors of important developments at the annual meeting which occurred during the day. The stock held well after the adjournment of the meeting without the expected developments being forthcoming. The general market, however, yielded easily to the profit-taking by room traders in the final hour and only small remnants of the day's gains remained at the closing, which was heavy.

Bonds were firm. Total sales, par value, $3,920,000. United States 2s declined ¼, while the 3s and old 4s advanced ½ per cent on call.

There was little apparent significance in the transactions yesterday on the Pittsburgh stock exchange, although the number of shares sold amounted to 4,547, which constitutes a fairly active day as the market has ranged in the past two years. There were a number of variations, some up and some down, from the closing sales of the day before, but to none of them could be attached any great importance.

The Crucible issues came in yesterday for considerable attention, preferred and common stocks both selling to the extent of more than 700 shares. The changes were fractional. Ohio Tonopah and Tonopah Extension were also active issues, the former losing one cent and the latter gaining four. United States Steel common was the leading issue of the day, with a total of upward of 1,000 shares sold. The price ranged at 38 and better, a high of 38¾ being made. The gain for the day was ½. Westinghouse Electric Firsts showed a gain of two points at 97. The only bond transaction was a sale of $2,000 Sewer Pipe 6s at 101½, unchanged.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

At a meeting of the board held in Philadelphia yesterday the directors voted for the immediate issuance of $25,000,000 additional capital stock of the Pennsylvania Company. This issue is part of the plan to meet the $50,000,000 trust certificate notes which will come due Saturday. The stock will be taken at par by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company and the many extraordinary improvements already installed will, in this way, be permanently financed. This brings the capital of the Pennsylvania Company to $60,000,000, all owned by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company. The Pennsylvania Company operates the northwest system of the Pennsylvania lines west of Pittsburgh.

Pittsburgh bankers attending the annual convention of the Ohio Bankers' association at Cleveland includes J. R. Duff, secretary and treasurer of the Peoples Savings bank; Harvey Schumacher, cashier of the Peoples National bank; H. S. Zimmerman, assistant cashier of the German National bank; W. W. Ramsey, cashier of the German National bank; J. W. Fleming, cashier, and John Young, auditor of the Farmers Deposit National bank; C. M. Gerwig, cashier of the Industrial National bank; E. E. McCoy, assistant cashier of the Keystone National bank, and F. H. Richard, cashier of the First National bank.

The fiscal year of the Pittsburgh Brewing Company will end October 31, and, as usual, the annual report promises to be a very favorable one. It is expected that the report will show net earnings of over $1,600,000 for the year, as compared with $1,604,582 in 1904. There will be a surplus after all charges, including dividend payments of 7 per cent on preferred stock and 5 per cent on common, interest on bonds and depreciation of at least $300,000, compared with $194,000 in 1904. This will bring the net surplus account up to about $1,100,000, as against $2,892,664, shown on October 31, 1904. It is likely that the officers will charge off for depreciation about $400,000, instead of $320,000 last year.

W. D. Henry, president of the National Fire Proofing Company, returned from New York yesterday morning. In reply to an inquiry in respect to the $3,500,000 bond issue of the Federal Clay Company's constituent property, he stated that a special meeting of the directors will be held next week, probably on Thursday, when the result of his conference with New York bankers will be given to the board. In other quarters, it was rather generally thought that the bonds can be underwritten in New York, though there were no estimates on the probable terms.

Chicago Subway has been the most remarkable stock of the week in its performances on the New York curb and in the Chicago stock exchange. On Monday it lost 2 points and on Tuesday 3½. In Chicago yesterday the stock found support early for short covering and the price ran up from 66 to 69, with a subsequent slow drag back to 68. At this point the slump began, and the next sale was made at 62 and then one at 59. Succeeding sales were made at 55 and 56. From this point there was a rally on short covering to around 58. The close was at 56. One explanation for the sudden collapse in values was a rumor suggesting that the principal eastern clique interested in the company was endeavoring to wrest control of the organization from the Wheeler party.

North Butte again advanced to a new high record in Boston. On the local curb there was a sale of 100 shares at 49 in the early dealings. There were also sales of 200 Pittsburgh & Duluth at 28¼@28½.

Among the recent dividends declared are the following:

Directors of the Manufacturers Light & Heat Company usual quarterly of 1½ per cent, payable October 20, to stockholders of record October 1.

The Dollar Savings Fund & Trust Company of Allegheny quarterly of 4 per cent, payable October 2.

Directors of the Iron & Glass Dollar Savings bank quarterly of 2 per cent.

The Second National bank of Allegheny regular quarterly of 1 per cent.

Colonial Trust Company regular quarterly of 4 per cent.

Columbia National bank 4 per cent.

The First National bank of Orrville, O., organized in 1902, with a capital of $25,000, failed today. The bank had but $119,000 in deposits.

At a special meeting of the Wheeling & Lake Erie Railroad Company the directors voted to rescind the authorization of a $50,000,000 bond issue, and authorize a $25,000,000 issue.

John D. Bailey, the veteran broker, was on the floor of the exchange for the first time in eight weeks, having spent his annual vacation in Fayette county.

George F. Baker succeeds Robert Bacon as a director of United States Steel.

Charles M. Schwab and some of his associates have started on another trip to Tonopah to inspect the mining properties in which they are much interested.

BESSEMER IRON REACHES $15.25

Low Stocks and Big Demand Are Having Due Effect Upon the Market.

NEWS OF THE METAL TRADES

There is every prospect that Bessemer iron will sell before the month is ended at $15 25, furnaces. The condition of stocks and the heavy demand coming from practically every finished line are the causes of the upward movement, which has borne the steel-making iron away from the $14 50 price which prevailed a month ago. The September sales to the United States Steel Corporation were on a $15 basis.

The steel corporation is expected to make additional purchases in the near future. It was expected that it would take 10,000 tons additional before the month ends, and this may yet be done. The purchases for October delivery are not expected to fall below 40,000 tons.

The furnace interests are conservative in their price advances, not allowing the market to get beyond control, because of the harm which would be inflicted in such an event upon many small interests which in the aggregate are large purchasers.

The Bessemer pig iron demand in America is shown by the heavy import movement which has started. American steel interests on Monday took between 40,000 and 50,000 tons of Middlesboro hematite pig, making a total of between 70,000 and 80,000 tons within the last few days. The first lots were sold at 54s 6d f. o. b., or 61s c. i. f. Atlantic Coast points, equivalent to $14 85. As all of this iron is for rails or other steel products to be exported the duty need not be considered. It is claimed that the most recent sales were made 4s higher, and foreign holders are now asking 60s and are booked far into the future.

Later the market became excited when 10,000 tons of Bessemer iron were sold at 2s advance. Scotch steel makers asked 10s advance on earlier price.

There is also an active demand for ferromanganese and spiegel for importation, and prices are advancing rapidly.

Both the valley furnaces working on foundry and those in the south are starting in the present heavy tonnage requirements. Southern No. 2 is not to be had under $12. Birmingham, it is stated, and higher prices than that have been secured.

The situation has had a direct effect on the coke market, which is stronger today than at any earlier time this year. Both foundry and furnace coke are very active. There have been sales of furnace coke at $2 75, in cases where a consumer needed an additional supply to round out his requirements. Foundry of the 72-hour Connellsville grade is receiving above $3.

In the finished lines the demand is exceptional and far beyond expectations. Steel bar prices have been advanced $2 per ton, to $32. The Eastern Bar Iron association has reaffirmed prices at $30, although the actual sales are $4 higher. The steel plate manufacturers have restored the differential of $2 on the small size, placing all sizes now at $32. A higher quotation on wire is to be expected by reason of the enormous demand for that line. September is said to have already broken all records of the American Steel and Wire Company for a month's sales.

The Hardware Market.

The hardware business shows remarkable signs of great activity, orders for all lines of goods coming in freely, the demand being far in excess of the same time last year. Indications point to a very heavy business throughout the fall. Orders from salesmen and from the trade direct are accompanied by instructions for prompt shipment, showing that the goods are moving out of the hands of retailers into the hands of consumers in a very active manner. Builders' hardware, house furnishing goods, tools and general lines of heavy hardware all show this activity. A large movement of ammunition and firearms, in the way of shotguns and rifles, continues right along. Business on the general line of sporting goods is also in fine shape. The demand for window glass continues at about the same as at last report, the jobbers keeping their stocks in shape for the business that is going, and this business is demanding a good quality of glass. Prices continue very firm in the window glass line, with no indications of any change. Prices on lines throughout reflect the condition of business generally, and are very stiff, with some few slight advances. The Bindley Hardware Company furnishes the following quotations:

Columbia pocket knives, discount 35 per cent; Albion hatchets, discount 40 and 10 per cent; Bindley canal shovels, $8 60 a dozen; Great Western files, discount 70 and 10 per cent; sheet iron, base, No. 26, $2 35 the 100 pounds; galvanized sheet iron, discount 50 and 10 per cent; spun weights, the ton, $24 00; window glass, first and second brackets, B single, 90 per cent off list of October 1, 1904; all other sizes, single and double, 88 per cent off list of October 1, 1904, for immediate acceptance only; Albion sewing machines, discount 25 per cent; blue and white enameled ware, 60 and 10 per cent; Albion hot plates, 40 per cent, Albion lanterns, 40 per cent; hay forks, 60 per cent.

SEPTEMBER TONNAGE HAS BROKEN ALL RECORDS

Veterans in Iron Trade Refer to Present Market as Greatest in Which They Have Participated.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—The Iron Age tomorrow will say of the iron and metal trades: The past week has carried further the remarkable buying movement that burst upon the iron market two weeks ago, and the September tonnage is easily the greatest for a single month in the history of the trade. While there are evidences of excitement here and there, business for the most part has been done in an orderly way, and veterans in the trade refer to the present market as the greatest in which they have participated.

In the foundry iron trade a prodigious business has been rounded up and leading southern sellers have booked a record tonage in September. Three Alabama sellers of foundry iron are out of the market temporarily, but inquiries of large aggregate for the first quarter and last half of 1906 are pending, and $12 50 for No. 2 foundry iron at Birmingham is now quoted. Eastern Pennsylvania furnaces now have their prices at 50 cents to $1 a ton above those of two weeks ago. In this central west the minimum has advanced from $13 50 to $15 00 at furnace for No. 2 foundry.

Eastern buyers of basic iron have taken 80,000 tons additional and the market is very firm at $16 00 delivered. Coke manufacturers have advanced prices and are chary of long commitments. Contracts for Connellsville furnace coke have been made at $3 50 for the first half of 1906 and other contracts at $2 60 are pending.

PIG IRON PRICES ARE FIRM AND MOVING UP

Quotations Stiffen Decidedly After the Placing of Large Orders—Rail Buying Is Still Liberal.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

CLEVELAND, Sept. 27.—The Iron Trade Review tomorrow will say:

Heavy buying of pig iron, with prices firm and tending steadily upward, without, however, any tendency toward boom quotations, has been the leading feature during the last week. The buying of pig iron through Cincinnati agencies exceeded the heavy purchases for July, fully 250,000 tons having been sold. Including 60,000 to 75,000 tons purchased by cast iron pipe interests, mainly for last quarter delivery.

Although much of the southern iron purchased was at prices ranging from $11 50 to $12 00, Birmingham, for No. 2 foundry, there was a decided stiffening of quotations after the large orders were placed. The prices of Bessemer pig are now firm at $15 50, valley or $16 85, Pittsburgh, while basic has been sold as high as $15 50 at the furnace for delivery during the first half of next year.

The railroads are still buying rails liberally, and orders booked for next year, including the part of the tonnage for this year which will go over, amounts to almost 2,000,000 tons.

The Wool Market.

LONDON, Sept. 27.—The fifth series of wool auction sales closed today. During the sales Queensland new clip was prominent. Prices at the close showed a general advance of 5 per cent over the July average. Merinos gradually hardened throughout and closed at the highest point, especially good combing, which was in keen demand for the continent and England. Fine and medium greasy crossbreds attracted fair American competition and advanced 5 per cent. Scoureds and slipes, which formed a large proportion of the offerings, sold readily at ½@d advance. Cape of Good Hope and Natal wool was in better demand and super snow-whites realized exceptionally high prices. The sales closed firm and active. Of the 32,000 bales brought forward, 44,000 were sold to the home trade, 22,000 to the continent, 3,000 to America and 3,000 were held over. Today 7,220 bales were offered. Following are the sales in detail: New South Wales, 800 bales; scoured, 1s; greasy, 8d@1s 2d; Queensland, 1,200 bales; scoured, 1s 1½d@2s 3d; greasy, 8½d; Victoria, 300 bales; scoured, 11d@1s 11½d; West Australia, 500 bales; greasy, 7½d@1s 2d; New Zealand, 3,400 bales; scoured, 9½d@2s; greasy, 6d@1s 5½d; Cape of Good Hope and Natal, 400 bales; scoured, 1s 1½d@1s 10d; greasy, 6d@10d; River Plate, 400 bales; scoured, 10d@1s 4d; greasy, 9d@10d.

SUGAR WAR STILL ON AMONG THE REFINERS

Arbuckle Prices to Be Met by Their Competitors—Flour Still Weak and Draggy.

There was comparatively little doing yesterday in the local markets. The sugar war is still on. The National and American companies announce they will quote the same prices as the Arbuckles, which would indicate that the bottom of the battle has not yet been reached and each is willing to go lower. In the foreign market the price of sugar is down and the market is weaker and it is probable a similar effect will be felt here.

Coffee and flour are both holding on. Coffee seems strong at quotations, but flour is weak and considerable shading is being done. Buyers are still shy.

In green goods, produce and fruit there were no changes in quotations yesterday, comparatively little business being done. Grapes are coming in abundance now and are getting cheap. There is a good crop this season and the indications are for some cheap fruit of this kind a little later in the season. October is the great grape month and many carloads will be shipped in from the Erie county graperies.

HAY AND GRAIN.

Receipts.

Receipts yesterday were: Pennsylvania, 31 cars hay, 14½ cars oats, 6½ cars corn, 2 cars straw, 3 cars feed, 1 car rye. Baltimore & Ohio—2 cars hay, 1 car feed. Lake Erie—1 car rye, 1 car malt.

Oats continue to be the strong commodity. Arrivals are soon disposed of. Good hay continues scarce, with plenty of lower grades arriving and waiting for buyers. Corn continues firm and no change is noted in straw and feed.

NEWS FROM THE MINES.

The sinking of the shaft of the Tungah Mines Mining Company is proceeding very rapidly. The formation is a well mineralized porphyry carrying quartz stringers and the company has ample funds for development purposes.

At a meeting of the Star of the East Gold Mining and Milling Company, limited, held at the home office, Peterboro, Ontario, Canada, these officers were elected: J. H. Tudge, Philadelphia, Pa., president; G. F. Smith, Pittsburgh, vice president; J. W. Boyes, Peterboro, secretary and treasurer; E. J. Cowan, Toronto, Canada, general manager. The officers and the following were chosen directors: J. F. Fritz, Buffalo, N. Y.; J. H. Tudge, Ontario, Canada; H. Steele, Oil City, Pa.; Henry Loeberg, Allegheny, and Thomas Hamilton, Pittsburgh. A meeting of the board of directors will be held October 3 at Peterboro to arrange for the development of the property, which looks very encouraging at present.

The Liberty Mining Company, a close corporation of Pittsburghers, is said to have made a rich strike on its property at Lundel, Gilmore county, Idaho. The company has completed tunneling and crosscuts about 1,000 feet long, showing a body of ore assaying from $6 to $60 a ton in gold, silver and lead. Noah Ferguson is the president of the company and also general manager and has spent the past year in personally superintending the work. S. J. Waltemeyer, Jr., is treasurer. The capital is $1,250,000, par $1.

The Lincoln Copper Company of New Mexico is meeting ore for shipment. The company is working on an incline. Several tons have been taken out in development. The physical conditions about the mine are excellent. From the shaft to the end of the railroad tracks a tramdle may be built, not to exceed 200 feet in length, the ore sent to sorting tables, and from there direct to the ore bins. The ore house is to be put in at once, and shipments from this point will commence. The ore runs $47 to the ton in gold and copper, the principal values being in the copper content.

A new mill is being erected on the Cash and Star mines. From the last seven feet in the 400-foot level the manager has taken ore that will pay well. The work in the Cash and Star mining field is more encouraging than any year since the ?le has shown. The miners are beginning to realize that there is something for them besides hope and hard grubbing.

Another big and rich strike has been made in the Anaconda mines on the south slope of Gold Hill, Cripple Creek. Miss Rosenberg and associates, operating for the past several months on block 31, near the Mary McKinney line, have an immense body of ore, the dimensions not as yet being known. The ore was found at a depth of 200 feet in a winze, which was sunk from the tunnel level, which is 400 feet from the surface.

The Metal Market.

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—The London market was higher on reports from Amsterdam reporting a very successful sale of banka tin, which, it is reported, commanded prices equal to about $37 00 in the local market. Spot tin in London closed at £147 and futures at £146 15s 6d. Locally the market was steady with spot closing at $31 10@31 25. Copper was also advanced, spot closing at £77 12s 6d and £79 2s 6d for futures, the greater gain being on spot, was taken as a reflection of recent reports concerning a speculative corner in the October option. Locally the market is reported firm in tone. It seems difficult to obtain large prices for the time being, but lake copper is said to be held at 24¼@24 75c, electrolytic $24 12½@24 37½, and casting, 23 87½@24 12½. Lead was unchanged at £4 8s@£4 10s in the local market and at £14 2s 6d in London. Spelter was firm at $5 90@6 00 in the local market and at £27 5s in London. Iron was irregular abroad. Standard foundry closed at 44s 3d and Middlesboro at 49s 3d. Locally the market is firm, with No. 1 foundry northern quoted at $17 00@17 50; No. 2 foundry northern at $16 00@16 50 and No. 2 foundry southern at $15 00@15 50.

December Option Goes Up a Cent—Corn, Oats and Provisions Are Unchanged.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, Sept. 27.—Decreased receipts in the northwest induced strength today in the wheat market here. Another bullish factor was excellent demand for cash wheat. At the close the December option was up ¾@1c. Corn, oats and provisions are practically unchanged.

REAPING RETURN FROM FORESIGHT

Pennsylvania's Earnings Will Be Far in Excess of Its Dividend Requirements.

GENERAL NEWS OF RAILROADS

With the approach of the autumn dividend period of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, the many Pittsburgh holders of that stock are viewing with much satisfaction the wonderful traffic which that road has built up and the remarkable return it has been able to secure from its enormous equipment orders and improvement plans. The earnings will be far above the operating expenses, fixed charges and the requirements of the semi-annual dividend of 3 per cent as to make some people wonder if the big company will not increase its dividend. The traffic for several months has been above the average and the gross earnings have been unusually heavy, but there have also been large extraordinary expenses. In the near future there will be less extraordinary requirements and at the same time the equipment and other facilities for which the money has been spent will come into use at a period of the greatest traffic movement in the history of the company.

The amount of stock outstanding at the last dividend period was $301,285,950, and the balance of authorized stock unissued is $98,714,050. The Pennsylvania railroad has paid dividends every year since 1850. Since 1880 the anual payment has not been below 5 per cent and since 1906 it has been 6 per cent.

The actual amount of money paid out by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company in recent years has been: In 1900, $8,871,179; in 1901, $10,857,672; in 1902, $12,252,431; in 1903, $14,792,831; in 1904, $17,953,034, and in the first half of 1905, $9,038,378. It will be seen that the company in these years has distributed to its stockholders $73,-665,916. These figures indicate that the proprietors have participated in the prosperity of the company.

Pennsylvania Plans for Cut-Off.

The Pennsylvania lines passenger trains between Pittsburgh and Cleveland will not be operated over the newly completed cut-off via Ravenna, built jointly by the Baltimore & Ohio and Pennsylvania. It was said in the office of General Superintendent A. M. Schoyer of the northwest system that the new cut-off has such heavy curves that just as fast time can be made by the old route, although it is a mile longer. For that reason the Pennsylvania will use the cutoff solely for freight trains. Tests are being made on the cut-off to learn how heavy a train can be hauled over it. The grade is light and it is thought that very heavy trains can be be drawn without difficulty. The cutoff will be used by freight trains as soon as the tests are completed, which will be within a few days. The cut-off is to be used jointly by the Pennsylvania and the Baltimore & Ohio. It required about a year to build it. It is a double-track road, about 15 miles long.

B. & O. Shopmen Get Bigger Pay.

About 500 employes of the Glenwood shops of the Baltimore & Ohio are affected by an increase of wages announced yesterday. It dates back to September 1. The exact raise given the different employes is as follows: Metal workers, receiving 12½ cents and over, but not less than 25 cents, are to have an advance of 1 cent an hour. Mechanics receiving 25½ cents or over, but less than 25 cents, are to receive 25 cents an hour. Those who get 25 cents or over, but less than 27½ cents, are to get 27½ cents. Those receiving 27½ cents or over, but less than 30 cents, will receive 30 cents. This will amount to an advance of from 15 to 25 cents a day for the different classes of employes affected.

Burlington's Betterment Work.

According to a high official of the Burlington that company has under consideration the usual amount of betterment work to be done during the next fiscal year. The expenditures for maintainance are calculated to be a little lighter, but as near as can be learned at this time there are no important projects contemplated in the form of extensions, etc. The reports that the company's Illinois lines are to be extended seem to be at least premature, although it is conceded that the plan has been discussed from time to time. At any rate, the informant says, it is not likely that anything will make necessary an issue of new securities for some time.

Stole Ride on Erie and Slept Badly.

J. D. Brown, assistant general passenger agent of the Erie at Cleveland, is in a mood to receive further "conscience contributions." W. E. Langden, the Erie's agent at Mansfield, O., has forwarded to Mr. Brown a postal money order for $2.25, and the letter from the gentleman who sent the order. The letter states that in 1901 the writer stole a ride on the Erie from Mansfield to Akron, and has not been sleeping well since. The paradox here is equaled only by the wish which Mr. Brown makes in his letter acknowledging receipt of the order. He wishes there were more people like Mr. ——, i. e., like Mr. —— is now; not like he was when he stole the ride.

Railroad Notes.

All the retiring directors were re-elected at the annual meeting yesterday of the New York, Ontario & Western Railroad Company. The lease of the Port Jervis, Monticello & Somerville road, as well as those of the Ellenville & Kingston railroad and the Peckford & Connecticut railway, was approved. A total of 477,000 shares were voted at the meeting.

J. B. Drake, traveling passenger agent of the Burlington Route, with headquarters at Pittsburgh, is calling particular attention to the company's through sleeping car service over the new Clark road, the San Pedro, Los Angeles & Salt Lake.

Sale of Lewis and Clark exposition tickets via California points ceases today and direct-to-Portland sales cease Saturday.

W. H. Saltsman, supervisor of the Pennsylvania lines, with headquarters at Bellaire, has been transferred to the Cleveland division. Charles F. Patterson of Ravenna has been appointed to the Bellaire office.

D. W. Cochran, formerly freight claim agent for the Panhandle at Wheeling, has been appointed agent at Burgettstown, vice W. P. Jones, who succeeded W. A. Barnhouse as cashier at Wheeling.

Charles M. Scheffer, superintendent of passenger transportation of the Pennsylvania railroad, is building a home for himself at Wayne, Pa., one of the beautiful suburbs of Philadelphia. It is said that the residence will be one of the most elaborate along the main line.

P. J. Ward, lost-article clerk in the Pennsylvania baggage department at the Union station, has returned from a vacation visit to his former home in New England.

MANY PERSONS INJURED DURING RIOTS IN HUNGARY

Socialists Issue Inflammatory Proclamations and Clash With Supporters of Coalition Parties.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

BUDAPEST, Sept. 27.—Between 40 and 50 persons were injured in riots here this evening when Socialists and adherents of the coalition parties, including students, clashed opposite the Royal hotel, and for two hours there were scenes of tremendous excitement. The Royal hotel is the headquarters of the Independent club, in which is the council room of the coalition leaders.

The students and other supporters of the coalition had arranged for a gigantic torchlight procession tonight, but during the day the Socialists issued inflammatory proclamations calling on all Socialists and others opposed to the coalition to gather and fight for their rights, which they said the coalition was trying to sidetrack under cover of an alleged affront by the king-emperor to the whole nation. Owing to these proclamations the coalition leaders decided to postpone the torchlight procession, seeking thus to avoid bloodshed.

About 1,500 Socialists gathered outside the Independence club and announced their intention of entering and tearing down the council room. A large force of police was present and was assisted by 150 prominent citizens.

TELLS COURT OF BIGELOW METHODS

Select Councilman O'Brien Testifies How He Was Punished for Voting Wrong.

DECLARES HE WILL RESIGN

Select Councilman Thomas O'Brien, the lone Orphan in the city councils, related an incident yesterday to United States Commissioner Gamble in the Grant boulevard hearing, of how Director Bigelow chastises members who vote "wrong" on public legislation.

"They asked me to tell about the time that I went to Director Bigelow and asked for an appointment for a man in my ward," said Councilman O'Brien, in reciting his experience at the hearing. "I told them that when I asked Bigelow for the appointment he said to me, 'You vote wrong.' I told the director he could go to a hotter climate and left the office. This was all they asked me, and this incident had nothing whatever to do with the Grant boulevard case. It happened in 1903, before the boulevard bill was put through councils, and when I was a member of common council."

"I am tired of councils, anyway," said Councilman O'Brien. "and I am going to resign soon. My term does not expire until April, 1908, but I am going to resign before I make my application for liquor license at the beginning of next year. I know on which side my bread is buttered. It would not pay me to give up my business to remain in councils, and under the ruling of the license court, a license will not be granted to a councilman or a person holding any public office."

When Mr. O'Brien resigns there will not be a member of the Orphan party left in councils.

William McKelvey, select councilman from the Eighth ward, has sold out his liquor business and will remain in councils to the end of his term. J. W. Ruhlandt, select councilman from the Twenty-sixth ward, who owns a saloon, says he is undecided whether to give up councils or the saloon business. He says it is a hard question for him to decide, but he will probably permit a relative to run the business and remain in councils. There are eight or nine liquor dealers in councils, and it is stated that the majority of them will transfer their business to some other person and continue to hold their seats.

John P. Baldauf, former common councilman from the Twenty-seventh ward, and one of the Orphans defeated for reelection, was another witness before Commissioner Gamble yesterday. Mr. Baldauf declared he did not know why he had been summoned as he had nothing of importance to divulge concerning the boulevard or grant.

"Why don't they go after the guilty ones?" exclaimed Baldauf, after he had been kept waiting a long time in the commissioners' ante-room.

"Why," said Baldauf, "one would think I was a thief or something worse, the way I am treated. What do I know about how the ordinance was passed?"

"That's what I would like to know," said Councilman O'Brien. "They want me to tell about the ordinance when I was not here for 10 days during the time the ordinance was passed in common council." The stay of both O'Brien and Baldauf in the commissioner's room was brief.

FRIENDSHIP CULMINATES IN TRIPLE MARRIAGE

The friendship of six young McKees Rocks persons, who attended the same church and social functions for the last year, culminated yesterday morning in a triple marriage in St. Mary's German Catholic church. The couples married were Charles Heinaur and Mary Hodgkiss, Michael Durkin and Mary May, and John Schuker and Mary Hetzlin, all of McKees Rocks. The ceremony was performed at 8 o'clock by the Rev. Father Richard Toner, pastor of the church, and the three couples left together on their honeymoons.

WIFE PREVENTS SUICIDE AND IS FINED $10

Walter Downy, a negro of 1745 Our alley, attempted to commit suicide in the rear of his home early yesterday morning, but was prevented by his wife. Both were taken to the Center avenue station house. Downy said he was tired of life as his wife had ceased to care for him. He went to the back yard and when about to shoot himself, stumbled over the hydrant and the revolver went off. Downy's wife took the revolver from him. Policeman George Wolfe heard the report and placed him under arrest. Downy was discharged and the woman was fined $10 and costs, as she testified she was responsible for the trouble.
